Page 1 of 171

FILED

	06-20-2019 CIRCUIT COURT
1	DANE COUNTY, WI STATE OF WISCONSIN CIRCUIT COURT DANG & COUNTY
2	* * * * * * * * * * * * *
3	LEONARD POZNER,)
4	Plaintiff,) vs.) Case No. 18-CV-3122
5	JAMES FETZER, et al.,)
6	Defendants.)
7	* * * * * * * * * * * *
8	TRANSCRIPT OF ORAL ARGUMENTS/MOTION HEARING PROCEEDINGS
9	commencing on the 17th day of June, 2019, at approximately
10	8:35 a.m. before the
11	HONORABLE JUDGE FRANK D. REMINGTON
12
13
14	APPEARANCES: LEONARD POZNER appeared by Attorneys at Law, JACOB ZIMMERMAN, Meshbesher & Spence,
15	Minneapolis, Minnesota, and EMILY FEINSTEIN and MARISA BERLINGER, Quarles & Brady,
16	Madison, Wisconsin
17
18	JAMES FETZER appeared with no counsel
19
20	MIKE PALECEK appeared with no counsel
21
22	Reported by: Colleen C. Clark, RPR
23	Official Court Reporter, Branch 8 Dane County Circuit Court
24	215 S. Hamilton Street Room 4109 Madison, WI 53703-3290
25	1.23.23.1, 33, 33 323

1
2
3		EXHIBITS
4
5	No. 1	Description Plaintiff's PowerPoint	Marked 33	Received
6	_	slide printout
7	2	N.P.'s death certificate	44	62
8	3	Blank death certificate	61	62
9	4	N.P.'s death certificate published version	137	150
10	5	N.P.'s death certificate	138	150
11		issued 11/14/2018
12	6	N.P.'s death certificate obtained by Dave Gahary	139	150
13 14	7	N.P.'s death certificate issued 4/22/2019	139	150
15	8	Oral argument briefing notes of Defendant Fetzer	147	150
1617	9	Packet of varying death certificates	150	150
18	10	Book - Nobody Died at Sandy Hook	170	170
19 20 21
22
23 24
25

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

about the bigger picture of how this case is going to proceed.

As I always say, certainly for you, Mr. Fetzer and Mr. Palecek, as you know, we're on the court record. The court transcript is -- my court reporter is recording, so two people can't talk at the same time. Don't worry, I won't decide anything until you've finished telling me everything you want me to understand before I rule on a motion.

I want to preemptively apologize. Sometimes -well, not sometimes, I often interrupt people, which is quite rude in social settings, but in the court, if I let people talk on and on and on then, of course, we would be here for days and days and days. I'd like to try to keep things focussed and moving along.

Couple of loose ends I'd like to discuss. Mr. Palecek, so welcome. I'm glad you came. I know that you had initially indicated, as your usual practice, that you had -- you weren't going to participate today. I pointed out, well, gee, today is a date to decide a motion for summary judgment, a motion for summary judgment against you and Dr. Fetzer, and that if you didn't come, you ought to be prepared for the possibility that judgment might be entered against you by default.

Since then, I got a brief from you. Let me

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

spread out my piles here. Okay. It's called a Verified Motion for Extension of Time to File Response to Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment, Out of Time. wrote this brief, Mr. Palecek?

MR. PALECEK: An advisor to me, a retired attorney.

Okay. So Supreme Court Rule 20:1.2, THE COURT: the Wisconsin Supreme Court has rules, requires that attorneys who assist people in drafting briefs are legally required to state in that brief, and I quote, This document was prepared with the assistance of a lawyer. That is not stated in your brief.

MR. PALECEK: Okay.

THE COURT: Is this lawyer licensed to practice law in Wisconsin?

> MR. FETZER: No.

MR. PALECEK: No.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. PALECEK: No.

THE COURT: So here's the problem. I know you did not or you -- I assume you do not intend to be, essentially, a party to the crime of practicing law in Wisconsin without a license. It's against the law to practice law in Wisconsin without a license. It applies to people who don't have licenses, it applies to people

1	who have licenses elsewhere but not in Wisconsin.
2	I can't take a brief that violates the law and
3	say, well, it's no big thing. Do you understand the
4	problem? I mean, there
5	MR. PALECEK: Yes.
6	THE COURT: I'll make one more comment and then
7	I'll hear from you on what you'd like me to do. I
8	understand that well, let me ask you a couple
9	questions. Tell me a little bit about yourself,
10	Mr. Palecek. I know you come from Minnesota. Are you
11	retired? Are you employed?
12	MR. PALECEK: I work for an agency for disabled
13	adults near in Cloquet.
14	THE COURT: Up in Cloquet?
15	MR. PALECEK: Yes.
16	THE COURT: And I assume you're a man of modest
17	means?
18	MR. PALECEK: (Nods head in the affirmative.)
19	THE COURT: And I know I can take judicial
20	notice of the fact that lawyers are expensive. Can you
21	afford a lawyer?
22	MR. PALECEK: I might be able to.
23	THE COURT: Did you happen to see that the
24	Plaintiffs filed a document over the weekend saying
25	they're going to possibly ask for a judgment in up in excess of a million dollars?

2.1

MR. PALECEK: No, I didn't see that.

THE COURT: Do you understand that if the -- if the Plaintiffs prevail, they will be seeking a judgment against you, joint and several with Dr. Fetzer, personally, that may result in foreclosure on your home or depletion of your bank account or anything else a creditor can do to collect a debt?

So on the one hand, Mr. Palecek, I understand that you sit here unrepresented. You have someone helping who's not licensed to practice law, who doesn't make the required disclosure under 20:1.2.

Here's the other problems, and I don't mean any disrespect against the person, but if the person was presumably -- well, the person was licensed to practice law in Wisconsin, they would have probably told you we need some -- there's no affidavit attached. You didn't respond to the proposed findings of fact that the Plaintiff -- you raised the statute of limitations defense, but in all other respects, the motion is and the attached response is deficient. What would you like me to do for you here today?

MR. PALECEK: I would just like you to act on the pleadings on the document that I submitted.

THE COURT: So, Dr. Fetzer, I know you're

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25 whispering to Mr. Palecek. Maybe you're his best friend. You can't --

MR. FETZER: Well --

THE COURT: That's the other thing. You can represent yourself, Dr. Fetzer.

MR. FETZER: Yes.

THE COURT: But you can't -- you can't help Mr. Palecek, because that, in a sense, is acting as his lawyer.

MR. FETZER: Very well, Your Honor. simply suggesting he affirm the content he were under oath before you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Well, again, I mean, Dr. Fetzer --Dr. Fetzer, I -- look it, my job -- Chief Justice Roberts says a judge's responsibility is like the umpire behind the bench. The umpire behind the bench at a baseball game doesn't tell the pitcher what balls to throw or how to play or anything. You sit here and you see these come across the plate and you make the call.

My job really isn't to help you, Mr. Palecek. It might seem unfair. The Court does afford some latitude to people who are unrepresented, but the Plaintiff is represented and presumably paying, well, maybe even paying for three lawyers at considerable cost, and often judges can be faulted for appearing to be partisan in terms of

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

helping the unrepresented side to the strategic and financial disadvantage of those represented.

Let me ask you this, because this is going to get into a line of question. Let me just seque slightly, Mr. Palecek. You've been very quiet in the lawsuit. mean, you've been on the phone listening along. I don't know as I sit here today what Mike Palecek's position really is on the underlying action. I do know from Dr. Fetzer what he thinks and I've read his written material. You've just raised, oh, by the way, it's a statute of limitation defense.

So let me ask you this, because the statute of limitations defense, Mr. Palecek, is this notion that you waited too long, that you had a cause of action that occurred at a single point in time, and even if it was meritorious under the law, you've waited too long -- the Plaintiff waited too long to hold you accountable for the That's just a sort of generic concept of a statute wrong. of limitations.

So if I understand what, with the assistance of this lawyer you wrote, you said, Assuming even if it's true that I defamed the Plaintiff, he waited too long. That's what you're telling me, right?

> MR. PALECEK: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay. Now, that presumes then that the occurrence of defamation occurred at a single point in time, as opposed to, let's say, ongoing recurrent cause of actions.

2.1

I'll give you an example. Let's say if I was your next-door neighbor and I trespassed on your yard three years ago and a day. On the three year statute of limitations, then you say when you did that three years ago and a day, on the three year, it's too late. But if I trespass then the next week and the following week and the next month and even last week, then there are recurrent transgressions which could give rise to an ongoing cause of action that then essentially tolls the limitation period because of this ongoing trespass. Do you understand this hypothetical?

MR. PALECEK: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay. So as you sit here today,

I'll ask you some questions, just to establish what your position is. You know, the Plaintiff is a man named

Leonard Pozner.

MR. PALECEK: Yes.

THE COURT: And, you say in your statute of limitations defense, you said, Well, okay, maybe we said that, maybe I said that back then that he fabricated the death certificate or that he didn't have a son and that his son -- that he didn't have and nobody ever died at

MR. PALECEK: I think we don't know. I think I don't know. THE COURT: Did Leonard Pozner have a son named Noah? MR. PALECEK: I think we don't know. I think it's THE COURT: Did a person named Noah Pozner die at Sandy Hook? MR. PALECEK: I don't believe so. THE COURT: Are any of the death certificates, whether we talk about the first one in its first form or how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes. THE COURT: Okay. Do you understand then if	1	Sandy Hook, today, what's your position? Is there a don't know. THE COURT: Did Leonard Pozner have a son named Noah? MR. PALECEK: I think we don't know. I think it's THE COURT: Did a person named Noah Pozner die at Sandy Hook? MR. PALECEK: I don't believe so. THE COURT: Are any of the death certificates, whether we talk about the first one in its first form or how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	2	person named Leonard Pozner a real person?
THE COURT: Did Leonard Pozner have a son named Noah? MR. PALECEK: I think we don't know. I think it's THE COURT: Did a person named Noah Pozner die at Sandy Hook? MR. PALECEK: I don't believe so. THE COURT: Are any of the death certificates, whether we talk about the first one in its first form or how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	3	MR. PALECEK: I think we don't know. I think I
MR. PALECEK: I think we don't know. I think it's THE COURT: Did a person named Noah Pozner die at Sandy Hook? MR. PALECEK: I don't believe so. THE COURT: Are any of the death certificates, whether we talk about the first one in its first form or how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	4	don't know.
MR. PALECEK: I think we don't know. I think it's THE COURT: Did a person named Noah Pozner die at Sandy Hook? MR. PALECEK: I don't believe so. THE COURT: Are any of the death certificates, whether we talk about the first one in its first form or how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	5	THE COURT: Did Leonard Pozner have a son named
THE COURT: Did a person named Noah Pozner die at Sandy Hook? MR. PALECEK: I don't believe so. THE COURT: Are any of the death certificates, whether we talk about the first one in its first form or how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	6	Noah?
THE COURT: Did a person named Noah Pozner die at Sandy Hook? MR. PALECEK: I don't believe so. THE COURT: Are any of the death certificates, whether we talk about the first one in its first form or how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	7	MR. PALECEK: I think we don't know. I think at Sandy Hook? MR. PALECEK: I don't believe so. THE COURT: Are any of the death certificates, whether we talk about the first one in its first form or how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	8	it's
MR. PALECEK: I don't believe so. THE COURT: Are any of the death certificates, whether we talk about the first one in its first form or how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	9	THE COURT: Did a person named Noah Pozner die
THE COURT: Are any of the death certificates, whether we talk about the first one in its first form or how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	10	at Sandy Hook?
whether we talk about the first one in its first form or how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	11	MR. PALECEK: I don't believe so.
how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	12	THE COURT: Are any of the death certificates, today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	13	whether we talk about the first one in its first form or death certificate most recently produced in this litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	14	how it was modified or even the one maybe you've seen litigation, right, Mr. Palecek? MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	15	today let's work our way backwards. You've seen now a
MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm. THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	16	death certificate most recently produced in this
THE COURT: Do you agree that that death certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	17	litigation, right, Mr. Palecek?
certificate is accurate and truthful or not? MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	18	MR. PALECEK: Mm-hmm.
MR. PALECEK: Not. THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	19	THE COURT: Do you agree that that death
THE COURT: You don't you think it's false and a fabrication? MR. PALECEK: Yes.	20	certificate is accurate and truthful or not?
23 and a fabrication? 24 MR. PALECEK: Yes.	21	MR. PALECEK: Not.
MR. PALECEK: Yes.	22	THE COURT: You don't you think it's false
	23	and a fabrication?
THE COURT: Okay. Do you understand then if	24	MR. PALECEK: Yes.
	25	THE COURT: Okay. Do you understand then if

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

that's the case, Mr. Palecek, then how do I view a statute of limitations, because if I understand, you still suggest as you sit here today that Noah -- that Lenny Pozner is a liar, he didn't have a son named Noah, nobody died at Sandy Hook, and any document purporting to be a death certificate is a fabrication. Is that what you're telling me?

MR. PALECEK: Yes. Yes.

THE COURT: Mr. Zimmerman, does that take care of the -- even an arguable statute of limitations defense?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: I -- I don't think there is an arguable statute of limitations defense, but I think that his agreement that there is an ongoing and repeated defamation would render a statute of limitations defense meaningless.

THE COURT: Do you agree, Mr. Zimmerman, hypothetically, I guess for Mr. Palecek, that if he said today, look, assuming there's no activity on his part in between more than three years ago when this first all came -- Well, let me ask you this. What was Mr. Palecek's involvement in -- at the outset that gave rise to your naming him in the lawsuit?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Mr. Palecek coedited the book. It has been published and printed and released under his name.

THE COURT: Okay. And what year was that? 1 2 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Initially in 2015. 3 THE COURT: Okay. Let's just assume, Mr. Zimmerman, that the cause of action accrues in 2015, 4 and let's just assume there's a three year statute of 5 6 limitations. Do you agree that if that was the sum total 7 of Mr. Palecek's involvement and he said here today, I thought that was true when I edited the book but now I 8 9 have come to believe by reviewing all the evidence that 10 Leonard Pozner did have a son, Noah, that his son was 11 killed at Sandy Hook and the death certificate that I've 12 seen is accurate and real and truthfully recognizes the facts as I now understand them, because now I've seen 13 14 the -- I've seen it all, so I admit. Had he done -- had 15 that been your position, Mr. Palecek, Mr. Zimmerman, don't 16 you agree that that would be a different case on the case of occurrence on the cause of action? 17 18 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. It would 19 certainly be a different case. There would not have been 20 a second or subsequent edition of the book that included 2.1 both the original defamatory language and then also 22 additional defamatory language once again published under 23 Mr. Palecek's name. 24 THE COURT: Mr. Palecek, do you understand what 25 I'm saying? I mean, essentially, if you said, to mix my

Page 14 of 171

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

metaphors, if you said to me, Judge, now I believe. I'm getting off this train. I'm not riding it to the end. That's a different analysis than if you said to me, No, nothing has changed. What I believe then is what I believe now. I'll say it -- I said it then and I'll say it again. Do you understand the difference between those -- that two strategy? MR. PALECEK: I do, yes. THE COURT: What do you want to -- what's -what is your position today, because that then affects, even if I were to consider your statute of limitation defense, how I would decide it. Do you want to stay on the train, so to speak, or do you want to get off? MR. PALECEK: Well I still believe what I believed when we -- my thinking has not changed here. THE COURT: And your thinking has not changed, meaning particularly, that you still maintain today that Lenny Pozner has falsified and fabricated a death certificate for purportedly a son, Noah? MR. FETZER: If I might, Your Honor, that's incorrect. We haven't accused Mr. Pozner of doing that. We have declared the death certificate is a fabrication wherever it originated, Your Honor. It's been an implication by --

THE COURT: Okay. Dr. Fetzer.

1 MR. FETZER: -- the Plaintiffs that is inaccurate that we accused Mr. Pozner --2 3 THE COURT: Okay. MR. FETZER: -- of doing that. We have not. 4 5 THE COURT: I understand. You speak for 6 yourself, okay? You can't say "we" in the court of law. 7 I understand. Mr. Palecek, I'll then rephrase my question. 8 Without regard to who -- who created it, is the death 10 certificate -- are any of the death certificates in any of 11 the forms that you've seen truthful and accurate? 12 MR. PALECEK: I don't believe so. THE COURT: All right. What's your response in 13 14 terms of whether the Court should accept, if so -- if not, 15 why not; if so, your response on Mr. Palecek's statute of 16 limitation defense. 17 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. 18 At the outset, Wisconsin has never adopted the 19 single publication rule for any defamation other than 20 defamation on the internet. As it stands today, as the 2.1 Wisconsin Supreme Court decided in Voit v. Madison 22 Newspapers, defamation occurs at "every sale and delivery 23 of a written or printed copy." Every one is a fresh publication for statute of limitations purposes. 2.4 25 Now, it may be that a policy making court in Wisconsin, if they were presented with the opportunity to review this question again, would say we think the restatement sets forth a reasonable rule in the single publication rule, but even if they did that here, we're not talking about a single publication. We have a second edition that's published within three years of the date that Plaintiff filed their complaint. We did that, Your Honor, to make sure that in the event this case were to go up and the court were to change Wisconsin law, it would not impact the outcome. We have a second edition that includes defamation that was not present in the 2015 book. So statute of limitations would not get rid of the defenses -- or the Plaintiff's complaint, the Plaintiff's allegations based on the sale of the book.

23

24

25

THE COURT: Mr. Palecek, it's your motion, so you get the last word.

MR. PALECEK: Doesn't the statute of limitation go from the first publication which would be the article in Veterans Today in 2014?

THE COURT: But Mr. Zimmerman is saying that's --

MR. PALECEK: That's not --

THE COURT: That's when it begins, but you reset the clock back to zero every time you republished the alleged defamatory statement.

statute of limitations.

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

1 MR. PALECEK: I see. Okay. Then I don't -- I 2 don't have anything further to say. 3 THE COURT: Okay. I'm going to say this about your motion. First of all, I'm going to reject the motion 4 as not complying with Supreme Court Rule 20:1.2. 5 6 Second, Mr. Palecek, I appreciate your candor. 7 I'm going to reject the motion because it was not only a violation of 20:1.2 but it was prepared by a lawyer not 8 licensed to practice law in Wisconsin. 10 Now, alternatively, even if I had accepted the motion, for the -- for the reasons I'll state, I agree 11 12 with Mr. Zimmerman, my review of the Wisconsin case law is 13 that it's a recurrent acts of alleged defamatory 14 statements, even including up until today, the position 15 that you are espousing to the Court, and so therefore, the 16 cause of action is well-within the applicable Wisconsin Third, you filed a motion for extension of time and you said, to file a Response to Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment, Out of Time. I don't even know what this lawyer's meaning by that. But -- and the document is -- attaches Palecek's Response to Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment and Cross-Motion for Summary Judgment. So let's take that up.

You really haven't responded to the Plaintiff's

1 Motion for Summary Judgment. You did raise the statute of limitations defense, which I'm going to deny your motion 2 3 to dismiss based on an ongoing cause of action. Mr. -- the Plaintiff, am I correct, 4 5 Mr. Zimmerman, is -- suggests that the absence of any 6 response means the motion -- summary judgment should be 7 granted against Mr. Palecek by default. Is that what you're asking? 8 9 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. 10 THE COURT: Do you understand that in Wisconsin, 11 Mr. Palecek, again, even if I were to consider what this 12 lawyer said he was doing for you, or she, there is no 13 response to the merits of the Plaintiff's Motion for 14 Summary Judgment, there are no response to the findings of fact that the Court ordered to be provided, and I don't 15 16 know really what the cross-motion for summary judgment is. A cross-motion for summary judgment is a denomination of 17 18 suggesting you're asking for summary judgment against 19 Dr. Fetzer, because when you cross-motion, you're crossing 20 over to the guy sitting next to you, not a -- a 2.1 counter-motion or your own motion. Had you intended to 22 ask for summary judgment to be awarded against your 23 co-defendant by your cross-motion? 24 MR. PALECEK: No.

THE COURT: Do you understand that the Plaintiff

MR. FETZER: I believe it was Friday, Your 25

1 Honor. 2 THE COURT: Oh, Friday night. It came in Friday The Plaintiff's 802.08(2) disclosure came in 3 night. Sunday. 4 The only thing that came separate was the -- who 5 filed the Affidavit of David Gahary? 6 7 MR. FETZER: Oh, I submitted it, Your Honor. It's -- it's presently un-notarized. He's having it 8 9 notarized today. It will be here today. 10 THE COURT: And what -- what is the purpose of 11 the --12 MR. FETZER: The receipt of the death 13 certificate that had the partial printed filed number 14 which came from the office of Debbie Aurelia Halstead, 15 Your Honor. 16 THE COURT: All right. We'll put that aside for 17 now. 18 So Mr. Zimmerman, Dr. Fetzer wants me to 19 reconsider an earlier ruling I made regarding a motion to 20 compel because now he would like to assert a privilege 2.1 given to journalists. Now, we all know, because we were 22 all on the phone, he didn't assert that defense at the 23 time the Court considered your motion to compel.

My recollection of the underlying motion was fairly simple, is the Plaintiff requested, Look, in order for me to prove that the elements of defamation, I need to know all the information you had which formed the basis of your assertion that Leonard Pozner -- well, restate that -- the assertion that the death certificate was fabricated by someone.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Your Honor, if you would indulge us, my colleague has been responsible for --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: -- preparing the response to this.

THE COURT: So let's go back and then in my own mind reset what it is that you were attempting to do with the discovery that you submitted that I actually granted your motion to compel.

MS. BERLINGER: I believe that your recollection is correct, Your Honor. The discovery was sought in order to form the basis for the underlying defamation claim. I think in particular, the discovery requests that Dr. Fetzer doesn't want to produce discovery too actually goes to the malice element.

THE COURT: In other words, you want to know everything he knew when he formed the belief that he continues to hold today that the -- every version of the death certificate is a fabrication.

MS. BERLINGER: That's correct.

2.1

THE COURT: Do you agree, Dr. Fetzer, setting aside your privilege, you agree that that request is a fair request, setting aside the privilege.

MR. FETZER: Absolutely not, Your Honor.

This whole case is an abuse of process. It wasn't filed as a legitimate claim of defamation. The death certificate is on its face a fabrication, Your Honor.

It's a law in Connecticut that not even a parent can -- can have possession of a noncertified death certificate. That's a noncertified death certificate. It doesn't have Debbie Aurelia's certification. It's very obvious when we look at the documents, Your Honor, this entire case is as fabricated as the death certificate.

And what they want this for was acknowledged by the Plaintiff in the comment when he was asked about having lost the Wolfgang Halbig lawsuit he said, Well, yeah, but he actually won because he got Wolfgang to take down his Sandy Hook Justice website, and he added, And to show hoaxers that they're going to be dragged into court and it will last for a long time.

Your Honor, they want more grist for their mill.

This man's been abusing the process again and again bringing lawsuits and harassment against those who are seeking to expose the truth.

2.1

I would be complicit, an instrument of his abuse of them were I to release these documents. Frankly, I've never even seen the document attached to the Complaint before the Complaint was filed. The parties to this have extraordinarily limited relationship to the death certificate issue, Your Honor.

The book is 440 pages or so that I did the index myself. The number of times in which Leonard or Noah Pozner are cited is about 14 pages, which is shorter than the preface authored by my co-defendant, Mike Palecek.

I am absolutely committed to protecting those who have been my resources, my sources in the past, from further abuse by this man whom I have described on occasion as a cyber terrorist. He has boasted of taking down tens of thousands of content items from the internet, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Time out. Time out. So I -I -- we've got a bunch of specific things to talk about.

I know you were sort of like -- you had to get that out,

Dr. Fetzer, but up until this point on all the phone conversations we've had, I've appreciated how you've sort of stuck to the particular issue at hand. Do you understand, I'll give you an opportunity to talk about certainly the issues that you've just mentioned on the context of the Motion for Summary Judgment. All I'm

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

talking about is your -- your Motion for a Protective Order.

MR. FETZER: Your Honor, I have a lengthy history as an investigative journalist. I've had six or seven radio shows. I was a journalist for Veterans Today from 2011 to 2014. I had --

THE COURT: There's no question, Dr. Fetzer, that I -- I agree with you that the law has moved toward a greater protection in recognizing some of the traditional protections we've given the classic written newspaper journalist, television journalism, to journalists of -- of a different kind.

So but -- but this is a discovery question now. Dr. Fetzer, why didn't you raise this issue when I -- we were together on the motion to compel?

MR. FETZER: I suppose it hadn't crossed my mind, Your Honor, but it's such an enveloping aspect of this case. The -- the Plaintiff is seeking to identify new targets for his harassment, for his lawsuits.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. FETZER: He has a history of doing this.

THE COURT: Hang on. So Dr. Fetzer, there's a concept in the law that when you don't raise something when it was time to raise it, you waive it, so we don't keep coming back and having additional hearings. You

2.1

22

23

24

25

agree that this should have been raised at the time I 1 2 considered the motion to compel. 3 You've called it a Motion to Reconsider, and under 806.07, there's specific things I look at to 4 determine whether a court should reconsider. Are you 5 familiar with the statutory provisions set forth in 6 7 Wisconsin statutes 806.07? MR. FETZER: Only -- only in a general fashion, 8 9 Your Honor. 10 THE COURT: Okay. Now, privileges --11 MR. FETZER: The --THE COURT: I haven't -- I don't recall that 12 13 I've ever actually dealt with this particular kind of 14 privilege in my career. Other privileges we require the party seeking the privilege to at least disclose, in 15 16 what's called a privilege log, the existence of documents 17 that the person claimed to be privileged. 18 For example, I don't want to be arguing about 19 the privilege if, in fact, there's nothing responsive to produce, just because one wants to litigate privilege. May I assume that you have documents responsive to the Plaintiff's request and that you have not yet produced them?

MR. FETZER: Well, I have correspondence from all the contributors to the book, Your Honor, but the

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

issues are well defined in the book and they would add nothing of legal merit to the case. I feel I would be betraying my sources by allowing them to be vulnerable to ongoing attacks by the Plaintiff.

THE COURT: Okay. That wasn't my question, Dr. Fetzer.

Like, I'll give you an example. If -- if, let's say, you had a lawyer and Mr. Zimmerman said, I want you to provide copies of your letters to your lawyer, you'd say, Correspondence with my lawyer are protected by the attorney-client privilege.

A privilege log and the obligation to disclose not the contents of the documents but the existence of the documents means that then the Court's time is not taken up in considering just the abstract principle if the question is fair or not. Because if in my hypothetical, Dr. Fetzer, there were no letters to my lawyer, you'd say, There are no letters to my lawyer, and we wouldn't have to talk about an abstract principle of privilege.

The same seems to me to apply to the privilege you're now asking me to recognize. But before I do that, if you were to prepare a log, would that log contain documents that you feel are responsive to the request? you understand?

> In other words, do I have any MR. FETZER:

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25 correspondence where with any of the contributors we discussed the death certificate and its authenticity?

THE COURT: I guess, yeah.

MR. FETZER: The answer would, of course, be affirmative, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Is not a log the first -- the first step in figuring out whether even the privilege applies? Again, I have not dealt with the -- this type of privilege, but we do it all the time in attorney client.

For example, Dr. Fetzer, let's say you have a document. In the privilege log you'd say whose -- I have this document, it's responsive, it's a communication between me and this person or this person of --

MR. FETZER: The --

THE COURT: There might be something by defining the existence of the document, the sender and the receiver and the subject that would be an exception to the journalist privilege. Are there not privilege logs in this area of the law or no? I don't know.

MS. BERLINGER: I don't think a privilege log is the first step here, Your Honor, and that's because Wisconsin has not adopted a journalist privilege for parties to a litigation.

MR. FETZER: If I might return to the phone conversation to which Your Honor has alluded.

Case 2018CV003122

3

4

5

6 7

8

10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

Frankly, I was stunned when you offered that declaration. Even Reed Peterson wanted to comment on its sweeping breadth, Your Honor, and you cut him off. You cut him off short because he wasn't me. Well, he was speaking on my behalf, Your Honor, and frankly, I thought that decision was truly unjustifiable, unwarranted.

I have admired your conduct of this case in every other respect. In that single one, in my opinion, I had no opportunity to think through the breadth of your decision on that occasion, which I thought was preemptory and not sufficiently thoughtful of the rights of all of those who participated in this effort with me. That's my candid assessment, Your Honor.

I might very well have thought of the journalistic privilege as an extension of it had that conversation been allowed to continue, but you cut it off quite abruptly, as the record will show.

THE COURT: I don't -- Dr. Fetzer, you get to be a certain age in which I have to confess, I don't have a perfect recall of the details of everything.

I can tell you this, Attorney Peterson has not and never represented you. He always has a duty to and loyalty to his client, Wrongs Without Wremedies. So if what you're saying to me is I was uncharitable with Mr. Peterson's gratuitous comments that may affect someone other than his client, that sounds like something I would do.

2.1

Now, in terms of my decision being precipitous,

I don't know how to respond to it because I usually did - I usually do, as I would today, always give everyone an ample opportunity to tell me everything that you wanted me to consider before I decide the question. And I have a recollection that -- well, first of all, by your own admission, this particular privilege was never raised, and so it wasn't considered. That I can confess.

MR. FETZER: I was --

THE COURT: To the extent I didn't consider anything else, I'm not sure what you're alluding to.

MR. FETZER: I was frankly astonished by your decision on that occasion, Your Honor. I wanted to start to fathom what it signified in terms of its implications. I believe had I had more opportunity to reflect then, I would have asserted what I'm asserting now.

I feel very much as though I were in the position of a lawyer to client in relation to the contributors to the book, Your Honor. There is no merit to the case. This is a complete harassment lawsuit. It's an abuse of process, and I don't want them to be subjected as new targets for the Plaintiff to address.

THE COURT: Okay. What do I -- I don't know

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25 what that --

MR. FETZER: May I --

THE COURT: I don't know --

MR. FETZER: -- humbly request, Your Honor, that after you hear the oral argument, you return to this In other words, defer it for the time being, because the evidence in the case now that I will review today is clear and decisive and leaves no doubt about it.

THE COURT: Doubt about what?

MR. FETZER: The issue of defamation. There can have been no defamation because by Connecticut law not even parents are allowed to possess uncertified death certificates. That was an uncertified death certificate. By Connecticut law, he was not entitled to possess it.

THE COURT: Okay. Before I either decide it or come back to it, I understood then and I understand why a lawyer representing Leonard Pozner on this claim would want this information. I -- I do think the definition of relevant information or -- is something that is either, relates to the cause of action or likely to lead to the discovery of some other relevance. So the discovery in Wisconsin is broader than what might be just limited to what you'd prove to the jury. And it makes sense to me then as it does now that the Plaintiff would say, Look, they say it's a fabricated, a false death certificate, I'd

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

like to know why they come to that conclusion, because if there's no underlying evidence or underlying research or any documentation, then that might go to you, as you say, the -- the damages or the -- what was it, the element, not willfulness?

MS. BERLINGER: Malice, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Malice.

MR. FETZER: Your Honor, if --

THE COURT: Do we need to -- do we need to though -- on the other hand, I've looked at the documents in support of the Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment. So you've seem to have done all right so far without it. Is this evidence which is necessary to decide the motion for summary judgment?

MS. BERLINGER: Your Honor, it seems to me that there's no evidence that Plaintiff is a limited-purpose public figure, and that is the only reason that we would need to prove that the statements were made with malice, and so it does not seem necessary for you to decide the Motion for Summary Judgment.

THE COURT: Okay. We're going to get to that. So if I -- if I have conclude that Leonard Pozner is -- I had these words in my mind so I said it the right way, the two different tests on defamation, a public figure and then a private individual. I know that there's different

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

If I conclude Leonard Pozner is just a private individual, then this discovery motion is -- becomes academic?

MS. BERLINGER: I think the issue becomes moot.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. FETZER: One further observation, Your Any such correspondence would have been regarding reasons for concluding --

THE COURT: Okay. Do you -- so let's -- let's be -- so I catch this train.

The Plaintiff has moved for summary judgment. On -- one of the issues is for me to say whether there's any genuine issue on any of the facts material to whether Leonard Pozner is what I'll call a private individual as opposed to a public, do you understand that if I conclude on summary judgment he's not a public figure, then everything in your file can stay in your file, they don't need it any longer. All right? You understand that?

THE COURT: Okay. Let's take that up. I've got my notes on that. Who wants to argue the terms of that underlying question? Because, that I do think is an appropriate question to be resolved -- to be answered by the Court in the context of a motion for summary judgment. I do have some questions about the other aspects of the

MR. FETZER: I do, Your Honor.

1	Motion for Summary Judgment, especially as it relates to
2	then a trial for damages and the like, but setting forth
3	this element is something that should be resolved in
4	pre-trial motions.
5	I know you've filed briefs. I had affidavits.
6	I reviewed that. Who would like to tell me begin on
7	that issue?
8	MR. ZIMMERMAN: I'd like to do that, Your
9	Honor
10	THE COURT: Mr. Zimmerman.
11	MR. ZIMMERMAN: if I may?
12	THE COURT: Okay.
13	MR. ZIMMERMAN: Your Honor, we've prepared a
14	short set of slides.
15	THE COURT: Okay.
16	MR. ZIMMERMAN: If I can approach and give you a
17	copy.
18	THE COURT: Okay. Do you have a copy for
19	Mr. Palecek and Mr. Fetzer?
20	MR. ZIMMERMAN: I do, Your Honor.
21	THE COURT: We'll mark this as Exhibit 1.
22	MR. ZIMMERMAN: Thank you.
23	(Exhibit 1 marked for identification.)
24	THE COURT: All right. Mr. Zimmerman.
25	MR. ZIMMERMAN: Thank you, Your Honor.

2.1

I will try to get through this quickly, and obviously, have put together a series of slides, but to the extent Your Honor has questions, I'm more than happy to divert, to jump into a different line of questioning.

THE COURT: No. Please go ahead.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Thank you.

Just a brief overview on the second page, Your Honor, on what I'm going to try to cover in this short argument, overview of why we're here. I'm going to cover one example of a statement from the book that's false, one example of a statement from the blog that's false, and then talk about the rest of the elements of defamation, that I don't think are seriously in dispute.

So as to why we're here. Obviously, Your Honor, this is a defamation case, and on slide 4 I've set forth the elements of defamation. The Court is well aware of them. There's no need for me to go through those now.

On page 5, reiterating where we are today. As Your Honor's aware, Plaintiff moved for summary judgment against all three Defendants on the four defamatory statements that are listed on Plaintiff's Complaint.

Three of those are from this book, the second edition of Nobody Died at Sandy Hook. One is from a blog post that Defendant Fetzer published in August of 2018.

Wrongs Without Wremedies, as Your Honor is 1 aware, is out of the case, so we haven't addressed anything with respect to Wrongs. Defendant Palecek didn't 2 3 file a response, so this presentation will not discuss Defendant Palecek's issue. Therefore, we're focussing on 4 the arguments raised by Defendant Fetzer and the evidence 5 6 he provide in response to our motion. 7 So let me start, if I may, Your Honor, with a statement from the book. Wisconsin law for summary 8 9 judgment requires us to start at the beginning. 10 have to look at the Complaint and make sure that we set 11 forth a case for defamation in the Complaint. And what 12 I've done here on page 7 is to highlight a line from paragraph 17 that says, "Noah Pozner's death certificate 13 14 is a fake, which we have proven on a dozen or more grounds." We included a citation to page 183 of the book, 15 16 Nobody Died at Sandy Hook. And on page 8 we see an 17 excerpt from the book with that very statement appearing 18 in the book. This issue is not in dispute. 19 THE COURT: Can I ask a question? 20 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. 2.1 THE COURT: If I -- if I was more adept and I 22 pulled up Dr. Fetzer's answer, did he admit paragraph 17? 23 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, he did, Your Honor. 24 THE COURT: Okay.

MR. FETZER: Forgive me, Your Honor, admit --

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25 for Summary Judgment, the Court begins to look at the Complaint and then what allegations of fact in the Complaint the Defendants say are true. All right.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. That's correct.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: And we have tried to limit the scope of what's in dispute by relying on the responses to the Complaint and the answers in the other pleadings. Not all of them show up in the answers. Sometimes, because there was initial briefing on Defendant Fetzer's Answer, Plaintiff's filed a motion to strike. Some of the responsive pleadings show up in that brief as opposed to the Complaint -- excuse me, the answer itself.

THE COURT: Okay. Dr. Fetzer, turn to page 7 of Mr. Zimmerman's demonstrative exhibit.

MR. FETZER: Yeah.

THE COURT: That's paragraph 17 from the Complaint.

MR. FETZER: Right.

THE COURT: Two questions. Do you recall whether you admitted paragraph 17, and if you don't

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

believe, if they can show that the death certificate is fake for any reason, then their statement is true. Wisconsin law says something else, Your Honor. It says we have to consider the context in which the statement was made to understand whether it is true or false. There is two Wisconsin cases cited here, both of them treat this issue the same way, saying you cannot take a word in isolation and attempt to prove by some technical means that word is true.

On page 10, Your Honor, the first page of what I've identified as context for the statement, we see an image of Noah Pozner's death certificate. There's no dispute that this is the content of the death certificate that was released by Mr. Pozner. As we'll hear a little bit more later on, we don't think this is the image that Mr. Pozner uploaded, which becomes important as Your Honor considers expert reports and expert opinions.

On the next page, page 11, we see why they say the death certificate is fake. In the highlighted language, they say, well, the blurry ones, the blurry typewritten fields "may have been done with a typewriter, the clear sections were Photoshopped into the document."

Now, Your Honor, one of the things that's happened in the course of briefing summary judgment is we have identified and crystallized the dispute between the parties on the issues before the Court. Through this 1 2 process, it has become clear that when they say "fake" 3 they mean not certified or something else, but we never see a response on the question of Photoshopping. We never 4 see a response on the change to any typewritten material. 5 6 There's no dispute on those issues. 7 THE COURT: Is that true, Dr. Fetzer? MR. FETZER: Yes, but there's something 8 9 misleading here, Your Honor, because --10 THE COURT: Okay. You'll get a chance to talk. 11 I'm just --12 MR. FETZER: Yeah. 13 THE COURT: He says there's no dispute. 14 Usually, if I do --MR. FETZER: Well I -- I don't believe -- I 15 16 mean, that was one of the reasons I had at the time, Your 17 Honor, but I no longer believe -- my conclusion was 18 correct but many of my premises were wrong. 19 THE COURT: Do you -- you believed then and you 20 do now that portions were Photoshopped? 2.1 MR. FETZER: I believed then but I do not 22 believe now. 23 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Zimmerman. 24 MR. ZIMMERMAN: I will go faster then, Your 25 Honor. As long as that issue is perfectly clear, I think that may be dispositive of the question of the falsity of 1 2 the defamatory statement. 3 THE COURT: Mr. Palecek, do you believe -- did you believe then and do you believe now that portions of 4 the death certificate were Photoshopped? 5 6 MR. PALECEK: I had -- I had no real opinion 7 then, I don't have any real opinion now about Photoshop. MR. FETZER: May I add, Your Honor, that I'm 8 being sued for the statements in paragraph 17 and 18. 10 This is not part of it. I mean, the Plaintiff wants to 11 broaden to all the reasons I had, and many of those were 12 bad reasons which I've freely conclude, but my conclusion, the core of the case that this was a fabrication remains 13 14 true and has been substantiated in multiple ways, as I 15 shall explain. 16 THE COURT: Okay. I'm just trying to get what's 17 in dispute or not. And, Dr. Fetzer, you're saying now as 18 you sit here today, you now retract the statement that 19 portions of the death certificate were Photoshopped? Yes 20 or no. 2.1 MR. FETZER: Yes. I retract them. 22 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Zimmerman. MR. ZIMMERMAN: Your Honor, then I'm going to 23 move to slide 16, if I might. Obviously, happy to address 24 25 any questions that Your Honor has on the others, but I think at this point they're moot given that position by Dr. Fetzer.

2.1

There is, I suppose, some theoretical underlying question on whether the death certificate is fake because it's not certified. Now that is not a grounds for the allegation that the death certificate is fake that appears in chapter 11 of the book. It is not part of the context. But in the interest of addressing the issues that were raised by Dr. Fetzer, we can address that one today as well.

Plaintiff did introduce evidence that the death certificate that Mr. Pozner uploaded was a certified copy and the seal was visible. In fact, you can see the seal in the scanned image of the document. Attached to Mr. Pozner's declaration in support of Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment was Exhibit -- I believe, Exhibit B, and Exhibit B was two scans of death certificates that Mr. Pozner has stated he obtained from the Newtown clerk's office. We noted in that affidavit that the seals are hard to see when you scan a document. For as good as technology is, it is not perfect. And we noted that those documents were available for inspection. I have them here today. I'd like to show them to Your Honor, if I might approach.

THE COURT: Okay. Please.

19

20

2.1

22

23

24

25

1 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Here, we see a seal down at the 2 bottom of the document. 3 THE COURT: All right. So -- so the record is clear, you've handed me a document, I have it in my hands. 4 I can feel the raised seal of the town -- it's hard for me 5 6 to read what's on the seal. It says seal. 7 MR. FETZER: Your --THE COURT: And this is what, Mr. Zimmerman? 8 MR. ZIMMERMAN: This is one of two death 10 certificates that Mr. Pozner obtained from the Newtown clerk's office in 2013. 11 12 THE COURT: The actual document that the 13 Plaintiff actually received from the Newtown Registrar? 14 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Registrar of Vital Records, I 15 believe is what the affidavit says. 16 THE COURT: Okay. 17

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. That's correct.

THE COURT: All right. Mr. Fetzer, have you seen this? Dr. Fetzer?

MR. FETZER: I'm familiar with it, Your Honor. The seal is in the wrong place. That's a sign of fabrication. The seal ought to be on the left with a certification by Debbie Aurelia, which is absent. This is further proof of fabrication.

THE COURT: Okay. You've now handed me a second 1 2 document. 3 MR. ZIMMERMAN: That's correct, Your Honor. He obtained two death certificates from the Newtown clerk's 4 office at the same time, just like if you were to go in 5 6 and get copies of your marriage certificate or marriage 7 license, you might choose to buy ten of them so you don't have to go back into the office. 8 9 THE COURT: Okay. Are these two documents --10 now are we -- am I keeping these documents or are you 11 taking them? 12 MR. ZIMMERMAN: I think we hold on to them because they're originals, but obviously, we'll take 13 14 direction from Your Honor. THE COURT: Okay. Well, I'm wondering, you 15 16 have -- are these two documents exactly the same? MR. ZIMMERMAN: The only difference is I believe 17 18 that the seal is in a slightly different location on the 19 two documents. 20 THE COURT: Okay. Well, for purposes of the 21 record on appeal or for even going forward in trial, as 22 long as you have two, would not -- and it being -wouldn't -- the issue is the raised seal or not. 23 24 MR. ZIMMERMAN: That's correct, Your Honor. 25 THE COURT: Would it not be helpful to mark this as an exhibit and for the Court to keep one?

```
 1
 2
                      MR. ZIMMERMAN: Absolutely.
 3
                      THE COURT: Certainly --
                      MR. FETZER: May -- 4
 5
                      THE COURT: -- at the end, whenever the case 6 ends, you can ask for these documents to be returned.
 7 We'll --
                      MR. ZIMMERMAN: Of course.
 8
 9
                      THE COURT: -- mark this as an exhibit.
10
                      THE CLERK: It will be Exhibit No. 2.
                      (Exhibit 2 marked for identification.)
11 12
                      MR. FETZER: May I see -- 13
                      THE COURT: Exhibit No. 2 is the original with 14 the raised seal. You can -- 15
                      MR. FETZER: This --
16
                      MR. ZIMMERMAN: Thank you, Your Honor.
17
                      MR. FETZER: Your Honor, I'm -- I'm a bit 18 baffled by this, because it -- 19
                      THE COURT: Well why don't you look at the one 20 we've marked -- 2.1
                      MR. FETZER: Yeah.
22
                      THE COURT: -- and now --
23
                      MR. FETZER: Yeah. Because -- something's wrong. This is not the death certificate that he's -- he 24 25 posted online, Your Honor.
```

THE COURT: Okay. Let's let Mr. Zimmerman --1 MR. FETZER: It's not --2 3 THE COURT: -- tie up these loose ends. 4 MR. FETZER: All right. THE COURT: I want you to hand those back to 5 6 him. 7 Mr. Zimmerman, as you know, let's make sure I keep the copy with the green. 8 9 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes. I'm happy to leave them 10 with the clerk now, that way we don't forget. 11 THE COURT: Yes, please. 12 I want to say parenthetically, Dr. Fetzer -- and 13 when I say Dr. Fetzer, Mr. Palecek, you're in this like 14 hand in hand. So I don't mean to ignore you. If you want to say something, but you're such a quiet fellow, I sort 15 16 of -- we focus on the guy sitting next to you, but please 17 feel free to interject if you think something needs 18 to be -- first to be said. Okay? 19 MR. PALECEK: Yeah. 20 THE COURT: Dr. Fetzer, as a lawyer, I am a 2.1 notary. I've got to tell you, I don't recall ever being 22 given instructions on where to make the embossed, whether 23 I put it -- sometimes it's hard because it only has a reach into the document of a certain length because of the 24 squeeze on the embossed stamp. I also do have a court

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

Page 46 of 171

seal as well. So I'm just saying, when you get a chance to say something, I just want to let you know, because unless I tell you these things, then you would not know that as a government official, a notary in the State of Wisconsin, I've never been told where to put it. Usually I put it over my signature, but I -- but I've never to my knowledge been made aware that there's a right or wrong place to put these things. So keep your thoughts. MR. FETZER: You got it. THE COURT: Mr. Zimmerman, finish. MR. ZIMMERMAN: Thank you, Your Honor. We've introduced this evidence. It was part of Mr. Pozner's affidavit. He has stated that this is the death certificate that he scanned and that was uploaded to his Google Plus site. THE COURT: So to make sure the record is clear, what has now been marked as Exhibit 2 corresponds to the Pozner affidavit, paragraphs 11 and 13, saying that Exhibit 2 is the actual document he uploaded. MR. ZIMMERMAN: With one small caveat, Your Honor. THE COURT: Okay. MR. ZIMMERMAN: He did not say which of these two was the one that he uploaded.

Okay.

THE COURT:

2.1

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Just so the record is clear.

THE COURT: Okay. But as the Court has -- will indicate, I've accepted for filing the one of the two that had a slightly greater raised embossed seal. The two otherwise were exactly the same except for the physical location of the embossment.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: That's correct. And the record from Mr. Pozner's affidavit shows -- states that he obtained them on the same day from the Newtown Registrar of Vital Records.

THE COURT: Okay. So can I -- I said I'm not helping, but Dr. Fetzer, when you say to me sort of extemporaneously as an outburst, That's not the one he uploaded, I just want to let you know, that's not good enough, because I have to decide a motion for summary judgment based on competent, admissible evidence. And so if there's some evidence that you want to show me in the documents, in the affidavits, in the documents you've submitted, then please do that. I just want to let you know, because I'm going to rule based on the evidence, that as a fundamental precept of the Wisconsin Rules of Civil Procedure, a party cannot just rest upon their pleadings or just their extemporaneous statements. I need evidence. So --

MR. FETZER: Your --

THE COURT: -- when you get to be -- your 1 2 chance, please keep that in mind, too. 3 MR. FETZER: Just to make the obvious point, Your Honor, I was sued for the death certificate published 4 in the book. It does not have the certification that is 5 6 shown here. This is a misrepresentation. 7 THE COURT: Okay. MR. FETZER: The -- the document published in 8 9 the book has many features that are not present in this 10 document. This is a cleaned-up document, Your Honor. That is not the document that is the basis of the suit 11 12 against me. THE COURT: Okay. Just so I understand, 13 14 Dr. Fetzer's point, when I followed the affidavit of Pozner and the exhibits, it -- I thought the death 15 16 certificate he uploaded then made its way to and was included in the book. 17 18 It -- by some -- by some path, MR. ZIMMERMAN: 19 the death certificate he uploaded made its way and was 20 reproduced on page 181 of the book and 242 of the book. 2.1 That is correct, Your Honor. 22 THE COURT: And Dr. Fetzer, when he gets his 23 chance, is -- will say that if I looked at that page of 24 the book, do you think then -- and I compared it, are 25 there material differences?

ument 231	Filed 06-20-201

MR. ZIMMERMAN: The key word being material, 1 2 Your Honor, and the answer there is no. 3 THE COURT: What are the differences in the book 4 as opposed to Exhibit 2? MR. ZIMMERMAN: Plaintiff Pozner redacted 5 6 several of the boxes that appear in that death certificate 7 before he uploaded the death certificate to his son's social media site. 8 THE COURT: Social security number. 10 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Social security number and the 11 location of his grave. 12 THE COURT: Okay. MR. ZIMMERMAN: As he said in his affidavit, he 13 14 was concerned that someone might go to his son's grave 15 because he had received threats that people should exhume 16 his son's body in order to prove that it was actually 17 there. 18 THE COURT: Okay. Other than those redactions, 19 the copy of the death certificate in the book is the same 20 as Exhibit 2? 2.1 MR. ZIMMERMAN: No, Your Honor. There's one --22 well, let me state, there are two different -- slightly 23 different images of the death certificate in the book. The one on page 181 has a thin black border around it. 24 25 That is not present in the version of the death certificate that Mr. Pozner uploaded. So that is not 1 2 attributable to the Plaintiff in this case, though it was 3 described by Defendants' expert. THE COURT: Okav. 4 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Somewhere along the way as they 5 6 gathered documents off the internet, they pulled one that 7 had a black border around it, but it's not from my client. 8 THE COURT: All right. 9 MR. ZIMMERMAN: That's different than the copy 10 of the death certificate on page 242 that does not 11 contain --12 MR. FETZER: This --MR. ZIMMERMAN: -- the black border around it. 13 14 In addition, both of these death certificates 15 have been cropped so that they are not on an 8 16 1/2-by-11-size sheet of paper, but instead focus on the 17 material contents of the death certificate, the typed 18 information, the clerk's signature and the seal all appear 19 on the copy of the death certificate that appears in the 20 book. MR. FETZER: Your Honor, I -- I don't want to 2.1 22 accuse Mr. Zimmerman of a shell game, but that is not the 23 death certificate for which I have been sued. It is much 24 more serious than he is allowing here. That death certificate has certifications. The death certificate in the book has no certifications, Your Honor. None.

That -- that stamp on the upper left is crucial. That is a certification by the -- the town custodian of vital records, Debbie Aurelia. It has to have a certification on the left. It is not there -- in the book, it's not there. I will give you copies when my occasion occurs to show you that you are being misled by Mr. Zimmerman. I hate to make this allegation, but it's as serious as it could be.

Not only that, but the document has much -- many texturals differences that have been eliminated from the version you've seen. It had a dark text here which turns out to be because there's a dark texture in the original death certificate filled out by the medical examiner, Your Honor. This is a very substantial misrepresentation of the evidence in this case.

THE COURT: Well, okay. Let me just ask you another question. My bailiff will bring you Exhibit 2. Dr. Fetzer, is Exhibit 2 a fake?

MR. FETZER: Well, it is on multiple grounds,

Your Honor, but the point is it has this certification on the left which was not in the book. I -- I have it.

THE COURT: Time out. Time out. I just -- I want to work through and understand the positions.

MR. FETZER: Yes.

Page 52 of 171

THE COURT: I understand that Mr. Zimmerman is 1 2 walking me through the journey of what he says, well, 3 actually what Leonard Pozner says in his affidavit is the document which he uploaded. I understand the issue of the 4 redactions and the border and the split, and the issue of 5 6 whether an uploading can capture an embossed, but I'm just 7 asking a simple question. You have Exhibit 2 in your hand. You can feel the embossment. Is Exhibit -- yes or 8 no, is Exhibit 2 a fake? 10 MR. FETZER: Yes. 11 THE COURT: Mr. Palecek, take Exhibit 2 in your 12 hands, please. Is Exhibit 2 a fake? 13 MR. PALECEK: I have no way of knowing. 14 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you for your candor. My bailiff will retrieve Exhibit 2. 15 16 Okay. Go ahead, Mr. Zimmerman. 17 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Thank you, Your Honor. I think the critical issue here is that 18 19 Defendants did not introduce admissible evidence that the 20 death certificate that Mr. Pozner uploaded was a fake. 2.1 The experts that Defendants hired to provide testimony in 22 this case did not review the digital file that Mr. Pozner 23 uploaded. They reviewed some other copy. And as we showed in our motion to strike, which we'll talk about in 24 25 a moment, we know from the file size that it could not have been the file that Mr. Pozner uploaded.

2.1

Now in the context of Photoshopping, that's critically important, because at some point the allegation was the file or the image was digitally manipulated. That may be of less import today, given that they're agreeing that the image was not Photoshopped, but we can see on page 181 of the book, which is reproduced in slide 10 of my presentation, the death certificate from the book that contains, although hazy, an image of the embossed seal in the lower left-hand corner. There's no evidence in the record that the document was not certified.

And --

MR. FETZER: But --

MR. ZIMMERMAN: -- with respect, Defendant

Fetzer's statements that the certification is in the wrong spot or that the document wasn't certified are not admissible evidence. He's offered opinion testimony for which he is not competent under Wisconsin law to provide.

They've provided two expert reports from people who claim to be forensic document examiners, experts who are allowed to testify in court about whether a document is real or forged. Those individuals did not offer an opinion that the death certificate was fake because it lacked a seal. They did not offer that opinion based on the image that was uploaded, and they were never provided

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

the underlying documents.

We can call these originals in this case because they are the certified copy obtained from the Newtown clerk that bears the physical raised seal.

MR. FETZER: May --

MR. ZIMMERMAN: They are not the original death certificate that's held in the Newtown file cabinet somewhere, but in -- in either event, their forensic document analysts did not obtain these files because they didn't ask for them. In this case, with all of the discovery and all of the issues that have been before your court, no one has ever served a document request asking for the JPEG image that Mr. Pozner uploaded or the death certificates that were underlying that issue -- or that I apologize. So what everyone is working with from the Defendants' side are copies of copies that they found somewhere out on the internet, and they are using those to say my client did something wrong or my client improperly distributed or possessed a modified or altered death certificate, but there's no admissible evidence in the record to support that contention, even if it was within the context of the statement in chapter 11, and it is not.

Where does that leave us? We identified the --I'm sorry, I'm on slide 17. We identified the defamatory content in our Complaint, the defamatory statement. We showed that the defamatory statement actually appears in the book, just where we said it would. We evaluated the context of the statement to understand why the Defendants claimed that the statement was fake. Plaintiff introduced evidence to show that's wrong. Defendants did not introduce admissible evidence to counter Plaintiff's showing. Therefore, there is no genuine issue of material fact on this element of defamation, the falsity of the defamatory statement.

2.1

Your Honor, if I might, I'd like to address quickly one statement from Defendant Fetzer's blog. This appears on paragraph 18 of the Complaint. It's a slightly longer statement, slide 19 of my presentation.

Slide 20 contains an excerpt from Exhibit P to my declaration -- excuse me, Affidavit in Support of Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment. This is a screenshot or a printout of that blog page, and the false statement appears in the blog. There's no dispute on this point.

On slide 21, we've identified the context of this false statement. And as I said, Your Honor, this one is a little bit different. Here, Defendant Fetzer accused Plaintiff of circulating or providing to Ms. Kelley Watt a fabrication with the bottom half of a real death certificate and the top half of a fake. The allegation there, Your Honor, is that they literally -- that my client or someone upstream of my client literally combined two documents to result in a fabricated death certificate. There's no evidence in the record to support that contention.

2.1

They go a little bit further here, Your Honor, saying that there's no file number. I believe that refers to the state file number box in the upper right-hand corner, which we can talk about in just a moment, and the wrong estimated time of death. That's the sum total of the context from the blog about my client's son's death certificate. Those -- none of those are accurate. None of those reflect a fabricated death certificate.

On page 22, we can see three boxes from Noah Pozner's death certificate that identify actual or presumed time of death, time pronounced, and time of injury.

And on slide 23, we have testimony from the deposition of Dr. Carver. I skipped some slides earlier, Your Honor. Dr. Carver is the chief -- was the Chief Medical Examiner for the State of Connecticut for almost three decades who personally performed the post-mortem examination of Noah Pozner. He was deposed in this case, including by Dr. Fetzer, who had ample opportunity to ask him questions about the time of death notations on the death certificate. And as the evidence showed, Dr. Carver explained that the time of death numbers, times on the death certificate, have nothing to do with determining the moment when Noah Pozner was shot. They have everything to do with determining the time in which Noah Pozner was pronounced dead. We've included deposition excerpts in the presentation, I won't belabor the Court with them, on slide 23 and 24.

2.1

The affidavit includes more. This happens, Your Honor, because sometimes they find a dead body in the woods and it might be there for 20 years, and then the medical examiner has to figure out when did the person die. When did the injury occur. And if there are years intervening the presumed death and the death -- the medical examiners evaluation, they have to rely on much more complicated forensic techniques to make that determination.

But Dr. Carver stated with respect to these, those are the dates and times that he received information from competent EMTs that Noah Pozner and the other victims had been pronounced dead. And for him, that was the end of the inquiry. This is an administrative function, not an investigatory function.

Having said that, on slide 25, Defendant Fetzer

Case 2018C v 003122

2.1

did attempt to introduce evidence that Noah Pozner could not have been pronounced dead because he contends no EMTs went into the building. Your Honor, it's important, obviously, in a motion for summary judgment to attach evidence, which is why Wisconsin statutes require us to do that, and then also to look carefully at that evidence.

Because the evidence that Mr. -- Dr. Fetzer attached, does not say no EMTs went into that school. It says this EMT and her crew did not enter the building. But we know from the Connecticut State Police report that other EMTs did.

On page 26 of the presentation is an excerpt -oh, I apologize. I've mislabelled that. It's an excerpt from my affidavit. It includes statements from the Connecticut State Police report from three paramedics who entered the building and are the individuals who conducted the determination that the victims were deceased. They're all in the police report -- state police report. They're admissible. The state police report is a public record.
They're not hearsay within hearsay. Neither of those witnesses -- none of those three witnesses are available to testify in the court today. So we have admissible evidence that EMTs did enter the building, they did check each one of the victims using a protocol, and eventually, these victims were pronounced dead.

This is also consistent with the time of death with the medical examiner's report. On page 27, we see an excerpt. That report says the victims were pronounced dead at 11:00 o'clock by paramedic, and that statement is repeated in the medical examiner's notes from the field, from the scene investigation.

2.1

Finally, Your Honor, let me address the absence of a state file number. This is an issue that came up in the case because some death certificates in Connecticut are issued by the town and other death certificates in Connecticut are issued by the state. They chose in their wisdom to have a two-track system to release vital documents. And because of that, there is a difference between a document obtained from the town and one obtained from the state.

We introduced evidence, again, through
Dr. Carver's deposition -- by the way, Dr. Carver testified he has completed more than 13,000 death certificates in his role as chief medical examiner for the State of Connecticut, which is an astoundingly high number, and he was easily able to explain the absence of the file number on Noah Pozner's death certificate. The copy that was obtained from Newtown, won't have a state file number. The copy that's obtained from the state vital records office, will, and it's as simple as that.

Even if we identified that difference, even if

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

we had a disagreement about the basis for that difference, there is no evidence in the record that a state file number on one document and the absence of a file number on the other is evidence that the document is a fabrication. There is nothing to connect that administrative difference with the underlying possession or issuance of a fake public record.

Your Honor, I'm probably going too far and beating a dead horse on this, but there's also no evidence that Noah Pozner's death certificate is a combination of two documents. We know this because Dr. Carver testified that he entered -- and actually, let me, if I can, take a moment, Your Honor. We actually have an original death certificate. May I approach?

THE COURT: Please.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: This is the original death certificate form that's used by the State of Connecticut. We obtained a copy -- we obtained an original from the office of the chief medical examiner. It says "blank copy" at the top so that no one will do anything nefarious with it. You can see the size, shape, and tone of that document.

Dr. Carver testified that his job is to complete the shaded boxes. The funeral home director, Mr. Green, testified that his job is to fill in the nonshaded boxes,

1	the registrar cites.
2	THE COURT: Should we mark this?
3	MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor, please.
4	THE COURT: Mark it as Exhibit 3.
5	(Exhibit 3 marked for identification.)
6	THE COURT: Because the document, which is
7	marked for identification purposes as Exhibit 3, has
8	shaded portions, I do note that Exhibit 2, now I can
9	discern the shaded portions on the photocopy, but
10	photocopying don't accurately reflect I think what you're
11	demonstrating here.
12	MR. ZIMMERMAN: If I might just make sure that 13	the Defendants have had an opportunity to see the
14	document.
15	THE COURT: Okay. And for purpose of
16	identification, you you wrote you modified the blank
17	form by affixing the two words, "blank copy."
18	MR. ZIMMERMAN: I did not, Your Honor. The
19	office of the chief medical examiner did that before they
20	mailed it to me.
21	THE COURT: Okay. Now let's just offering
22	Exhibit 3, are you?
23	MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor.
24	THE COURT: Any objection to the Court receiving
25	Exhibit 3?

MR. FETZER: None. MR. PALECEK: No. MR. ZIMMERMAN: The --THE COURT: Let's just clean up. Exhibit 2. Offering Exhibit 2? MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. THE COURT: Any objection? MR. FETZER: No. MR. PALECEK: No. THE COURT: And Exhibit 1 is demonstrative. MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. THE COURT: We won't offer that as an exhibit. (Exhibits 2 and 3 received into evidence.) THE COURT: Go ahead, Mr. Zimmerman. MR. ZIMMERMAN: Thank you, Your Honor. We know that this could not -- that Noah Pozner's death certificate could not be the combination of a fake top half and a real bottom half of the death certificate because the two individuals who are responsible for entering the information on that document provided admissible testimony that each of them entered information on both the top and the bottom. We can see from the shaded boxes on the 2.4 document, Your Honor, that Dr. Carver included information 25 on the top two shaded boxes and also a significant number

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

of shaded boxes in the middle of the document. He signed it down toward the bottom.

Mr. Green is the -- I should have introduced him -- funeral home director. He's been the funeral home director at Abraham L. Green and Sons Funeral Home for 41 years, and he's a third generation Green in running that family business. Like Dr. Carver, Your Honor, Mr. Green has filled out a tremendous number of death certificates.

When one looks at the shaded boxes and the nonshaded boxes, there's no possibility for combining a real death certificate and a fake death certificate. Moreover, as I've depicted on slide 29, we actually have photocopies from the medical examiner's office, which they copied the document before they turned it over to Mr. Green's funeral home, along with Noah Pozner's body, that shows us which information was entered into the medical examiner's file copy before they turned the original document over to the funeral home. The funeral home then entered their information with a typewriter, old school typewriter in the funeral home copy, and they made a photocopy of the document. Those two photocopies appear on page 29 along with the death certificate that's depicted in Mr. Fetzer's book. And that shows us each step along the way with the original document or a photocopy of the original document, the information that

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

was entered. And what it leaves us with, Your Honor, is no room for combining a true document and a face -- a fake document to depict what was eventually portrayed in the Defendants' book.

So where does that leave us? Again, Plaintiff identified his statement in the Complaint. We've shown that the statement appears in Defendant Fetzer's blog, we evaluated the context to see why they said the document was a fabrication combined from two different pieces of paper, and showed that there is no way their statements could be true. Those statements are false. Defendants did not introduce any admissible evidence showing that the statements they made in that blog could be true. As such, there's no genuine issue of material fact on this element.

Your Honor, if I might turn to the remaining elements of defamation, and as I said, I'll do this quickly, because there are no disputes for the most part. On page 32, we identified admissible evidence that the defamatory material was published to third parties, and Defendant Fetzer offered no evidence in response.

We provided evidence that the defamatory statements referred to Plaintiff, as required by Wisconsin law, and Defendant Fetzer offered no admissible evidence in response.

And finally, we introduced evidence that the language had a defamatory meaning as a matter of law, and the Defendant didn't respond or offer any evidence in response.

64

Your Honor, the last issue that I want to cover, if I might, is the constitutional conditional privilege. Here, there's no evidence in the record that Plaintiff injected himself into a public controversy. This is outlined on slide 33, Your Honor. Plaintiff introduced admissible evidence that he did not --

THE COURT: Before -- before he was defamed.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: That's correct, Your Honor.

Before he was defamed. And we can get into the date and timing on that, although, I'm not sure that it's relevant at this point given the state of the record in Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment.

THE COURT: Well let's -- Mr. Palecek, do you believe the Plaintiff, Leonard Pozner, injected himself into this controversy before the date he was allegedly defamed?

MR. PALECEK: Yes. I believe there was -- there were -- I don't know what they are right now, but I think there were letters to the president or things that he had written earlier, and I think it was 2013. And I think he was -- I don't have anything to -- any evidence, but I think he was a public figure before our book.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

THE COURT: Same question to you, Mr. Fetzer, and then, Mr. Zimmerman can --

MR. FETZER: Well, on 14 January was published an open letter from Leonard Pozner to the President of the United States about gun control. That was one month after the event, far before any allegedly defamatory publication had been made. It was even before President Obama on the 16th of January signed no less than 23 executive orders to constrain our access to weapons under the Second Amendment.

THE COURT: Mr. Zimmerman?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor.

There's no document in the record to support that assertion. Defendant Fetzer noted his belief that Plaintiff had made such a statement and provided a link to an online newspaper article. That article is not authenticated and is not in the record.

But even if it was, Your Honor, it does not talk about Leonard Pozner. And on page 33, I included a screenshot of it. It does talk about something it calls a memorandum, and I can only assume this is what Defendant Fetzer is talking about. We went and looked at that memorandum in the interest of being complete, even though neither it nor the article are in the record.

An excerpt from the memorandum appears on page

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

35 of my presentation, Your Honor, and it's interesting because it's written as, "Initial Proposes by the Maternal Family of Noah Pozner." And on that memorandum appear names of people who purport to subscribe to the memorandum's content. None of those names are Leonard Pozner, for the obvious reason that he is the paternal family of Noah Pozner. This information does not establish that Leonard Pozner injected himself into any public controversy before he was initially defamed by these defendants.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: So again, where does that leave us, Your Honor? The Plaintiffs introduced admissible evidence on each element of defamation. We established that the statements are false as a matter of law. There's no evidence to the contrary. There's no dispute on the remaining elements of defamation, and there's no evidence that Plaintiff injected himself into a public controversy before this defamatory statement was initially published.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: As such, Plaintiff should be granted its Motion for Summary Judgment.

THE COURT: Thank you.

We'll just take our midmorning break and then we'll come back with you, Dr. Fetzer.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

(Off the record at 10:06 a.m.)

(Back on the record at 10:15 a.m.)

THE COURT: Go back on the record.

Mr. Zimmerman, while you were out, Mr. Fetzer mentioned to me something words to the effect, he's been looking for a lawyer but can't find one. Mr. Palecek is doing the best he can.

Let me, again, I promised that I would say this every time we got together, I know you might be trying, but Mr. Palecek, Mr. Fetzer, you do need lawyers. I don't know whether you need a lawyer -- don't -- don't suggest that I'm making a suggestion you need a lawyer to win your case or to lose your case, but one thing I said, and I don't want to make you fret, Mr. Palecek, but I can't make assumptions that people know things. You know, this in a certain sense is a -- the Plaintiff is asking for a judgement, a judgment for money. And if they get a judgment for money, they have the rights to collect as a creditor. And one option to collect is to garnish a bank account, garnish your wages, foreclose on your home. you had a lawyer, the lawyer would be telling you all this and weighing in terms of what you want to accomplish and what are the risks of litigation and the costs of a failure.

I do note, by the way, parenthetically, that there's a counterclaim that we've bifurcated. But you do understand that if the Plaintiff prevails, the counterclaim is going to be dismissed because you can't be guilty of malicious prosecution or abuse of process on a meritorious claim.

2.1

Now I'm going to ask the same question again, both of you, Mr. Palecek, you first, and Mr. Fetzer later, after you've seen now the -- what's been marked as Exhibit 1, whether you've changed your mind in terms of what your position is here today. Because I think it's important, it might be subtle.

Defamation, we have the elements set forth on page 2 succinctly by Mr. Zimmerman, page -- actually page 4, The elements of defamation of Wisconsin law are: a false statement. And when I read your response, mostly Dr. Fetzer's response, I didn't know -- I think I do now -- I didn't know then whether the suggestion was saying at the time I made the publication it -- it's what I believed, which I now believe to be a false statement, because I've now seen the evidence, I've probed the details and nuances. So far the Defendants have taken the position it was a statement allegedly was correct that it's not false at the time it was published, it's not false any time in between, and it's not false now. That's what I'm hearing from them.

Page 70 of 171

20

2.1

22

23

24

25

If, on the other hand, although they've changed to say that now the part on Photoshopping was false, that now they don't believe it was Photoshopped, but if you come to the conclusion that now based on the new evidence and the opportunity to see what the Plaintiffs have proposed, that you think it is false, you should -- you certainly should, if you had a lawyer, the lawyer would be talking to you about that and what that position might have on the issues in this case and when we go to trial. Because you should understand, if I grant summary judgment, we're going to trial. If I deny summary judgment, we're going to trial. We're going to trial regardless, except as it relates to the issues, of course, of the -- with Dr. Fetzer brought some motions for summary judgment too on some of the subsidiary issues that I'll have to address.

But do you understand, Mr. Palecek, I have never met you, we've been on the phone, but -- but I am concerned about the challenges you both face being unrepresented and the stakes that are at issue. So just keep that in mind. I'm going to come back to you later on before the day's end to talk about what you really want to do in this case, whether you -- whether you want to step aside, sort of talk to the Plaintiff, I don't know. That's what lawyers would do for you.

2.1

Thank you, Mr. Zimmerman.

So I want to turn to the second part of Mr. Zimmerman's presentation. It begins -- Thank you, and I appreciate your PowerPoint presentation. It's the issue of constitutional conditional privilege. We just touched on it briefly. I want to pick up on that. When I asked you, Mr. Palecek and then Mr. -- Dr. Fetzer, did the Plaintiff inject himself into a public controversy, you pointed out, yeah, well there was a letter you said he wrote to the president. Mr. Zimmerman has responded to that in two respects. First of all, just saying that is so, is not evidence. You understand that it has to be admissible evidence and admissible evidence is properly authenticated.

Mr. Zimmerman has objected to even the suggestion that that one thing that you mentioned should be considered by the Court based on the rules of evidence, but even if I were to consider it, he's gone and looked at it and he says basically, but it doesn't refer to the Plaintiff Leonard Pozner. His name doesn't appear. And that to the extent there's an article refers to a memorandum, the memorandum appears to be signed by others.

How do you respond to this issue? Dr. Fetzer?

MR. FETZER: Frankly, Your Honor, the other issues are so much more fundamental, I'm not even

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

concerned about that. I don't -- and particularly, in relation to his being a private person and the protection of my sources, I'm willing that it be resolved on the basis of his standing as a private person.

THE COURT: Mr. Palecek, your position on this issue?

MR. PALECEK: Could you restate that for me, please.

THE COURT: Okay. So here's the question. There's another element or a slightly different test when a plaintiff is allegedly defamed. There's a test for just, let's say, this is my layperson language, ordinary private individuals, and then of course there's a test for public people. Like, you know, you turn on the TV, President Trump says he's being defamed all the time, but the test for him is different than maybe the test for you, Mr. Palecek. You might just be a private individual and the like, and the difference in this test depends upon to what degree this individual has injected himself into the controversy which was -- which involved or generated the alleged defamatory statement.

So example, you can say all sorts of things about the President of the United States that might be defamatory if I said them about you, Mike Palecek, but we allow that because of the nature of his office, his public

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

persona, his participation in the process.

Dr. Fetzer is saying that, in two respects, I quess, for strategic grounds or otherwise or maybe he's just convinced, he says I'm willing to concede that the Plaintiff has not injected himself into the public controversy such that the Plaintiff would then have to prove an additional element of malice, understanding then that the Plaintiffs then would then be withdrawing or essentially standing down on their continuing discovery objection to Dr. Fetzer's failure to produce the documents submitted to him that he claims are protected by journalistic privilege. Does that help explain the question?

MR. PALECEK: No. I don't -- I don't know what I'm being asked, actually.

THE COURT: You have to move that microphone close. Just --

MR. PALECEK: I don't -- I'm sorry, but I -- I don't really understand what I'm being asked.

THE COURT: Well --

MR. PALECEK: What are --

THE COURT: -- to some extent you sort of hitched your wagon to Dr. Fetzer, and Dr. Fetzer just sort of took off the side road, so he's kind of pulling you to the side. Look it, I'll make it easy on you.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

MR. PALECEK: Is it whether I believe Mr. Pozner's a limited-purpose public figure? THE COURT: Yes.

MR. PALECEK: Well I've heard that term and, you know, and -- and I don't know. I mean, I -- I'm not a legal expert. I don't -- is he a limited-purpose public figure? Possibly. I don't know. I mean, does that -- is that an acceptable answer?

THE COURT: That's a very -- any answer is acceptable if it comes from you based on what you believe.

So here's the deal. I've reviewed the Plaintiff's brief and the evidence, and I'm going to conclude for two reasons that the Plaintiff has not injected himself into the public controversy. First of all, Dr. Fetzer has conceded the point. Either on the merits or strategic, it doesn't make any difference, but a point conceded then it is accepted by the Court. And then to that extent, Mr. Palecek, since you kind of join in his motion, coattailing on him, he's taking you with him, and by nature of your strategy of sort of tucking in on what he's doing, you've conceded the point as well.

But even if you haven't conceded the point, I'm satisfied by your -- examining all the evidence that there is no genuine issue on the material admissible facts that are presented to the Court, and that the Plaintiff is

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20 21

22

23

24

25

entitled to this: a ruling that he has not injected himself into the public controversy.

Now that brings up, Mr. Zimmerman, maybe it's an academic question, although it's befuddled judges, me or other judges. You know, we've talked about motions for summary judgment. You don't really get a judgment on this issue, it's really more a pre-trial ruling that admittedly -- admittedly affects how you present your case. Is it a motion in limine to produce -- you know, present any evidence to suggest that he is injecting himself, you could frame it that way, but by agreeing on this point which obviates the need for these additional elements, you agree that's not a judgment, per se.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: I agree that this is a muddy issue, Your Honor. When we look back at, for example, Denny v. Mertz, they actually say in that case that the issue was decided by the district court on the briefs, affidavits, memoranda, etc., so they do seem to treat it as if it's a summary judgment issue, but obviously, it's only on one element of the defamation claim. So I'm not sure from a procedural perspective how Your Honor wants to document it, but I think we've received the instruction and we'll, obviously, act accordingly.

THE COURT: This is why I entertained it and why I granted it. I think motions for summary judgment are

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

sometimes overused by litigants who want to just make their case simpler for trial, understanding that it doesn't result in judgment -- a final order for purposes of appeal. So I'm not inclined as a judge to go out on a limb on a summary judgment which exposes the court and the moving party to appeal on a de novo review when there's a trial going to be had anyway, because if I was wrong and the court of appeals says I'm wrong, then we all buy ourselves a second trial.

I think there has to be more than just when a motion for summary judgment is used as a motion to decide a preliminary legal question, there has to be a reason for it and you've demonstrated to me there is a reason. Actually, Dr. Fetzer demonstrated a reason as well, that it obviates the need and his concerns about the intrusion into his claimed journalistic privilege.

The Plaintiff also then could rely on this pre-trial ruling to materially change on how you would present your case-in-chief. Obviously, if I didn't answer the question, then you would have to put in evidence and go to an area which would consume substantially amount of the Court's time and potentially additional witnesses. to the extent that the motion for summary judgment as it's used to decide a preliminary legal issue based on undisputed facts, then I think it's appropriate.

2.1

Going forward then, so we're all on the same page, we're not going to hear about this nuance in the constitutional conditional privilege when we go to trial. The Plaintiffs don't have to prove that the Defendants acted with actual malice as which would be required in that kind of scenario situation. The issue is resolved and the matter is simplified, so to speak. That would be the order of the Court and the law of the case.

Am I correct then that that then resolves the -or moots Dr. Fetzer's Motion to Reconsider and his Motion for Protective Order?

MS. BERLINGER: Yes, Your Honor.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: I believe that's correct. I think there is the -- there may still be a question about producing documents from sources that were not confidential.

THE COURT: Okay. What we'll do -- what we'll do then is we'll just clear the slate. If you want to send him another set that you think then either don't involve a journalistic privilege or you want to reframe the issue now later -- in a new context with some new area of inquiry, you can do that.

And if you -- Dr. Fetzer, if you get a set of interrogatories or production of documents and you think that this invokes the privilege, then you can invoke the

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

privilege. I'm not ruling on your privilege. I haven't said anything about it. I think what we've done here is mooted the issue, but it can come back before the Court, but there's no current motion or matter before the Court on this aspect. Does that satisfy the Plaintiff?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Let's turn to some other issues. Dr. Fetzer, you filed a Motion to Strike the Friedman and S-I-N-E-L-N-I-K-O-V Affidavits. I've read your brief. I've seen Plaintiff's Opposition to Defendant's Motion to Strike the Friedman Affidavit. For some reason I don't have a photocopy or didn't copy off to the extent that you want to address this -- his Motion to Strike the Sinelnikov deposition. Is there anything more you want to add in addition to what you already wrote, Dr. Fetzer?

MR. FETZER: I believe that's sufficient, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. I have some questions for you.

I don't know what this -- when you write, you say, "Defendant James Fetzer, in the first person henceforth." I don't even know what that means. Does that mean to exclude Mr. Palecek? Moves to strike the affidavits of Friedman and Sinelnikov for foundational

1 unreliability. I'm not familiar with that term either in 2 my 30-some years of practice or under the Wisconsin Rules 3 of Civil Procedure. MR. FETZER: Well the point is that the DNA 4 appears to have been obtained under improper 5 6 circumstances, and that it's required not to be obtained 7 directly from a medical examiner but from a center in Connecticut, and that that is -- would be necessary for it 8 to be available properly, legally. 10 THE COURT: Now you didn't -- so I get -- so I 11 get this straight, you didn't submit any evidence in 12 support of your motion to strike. You're just making an 13 argument, am I correct? 14 MR. FETZER: Yes, Your Honor. THE COURT: Okay. And your argument is that 15 16 Connecticut law -- well, that your argument is based on your interpretation of Connecticut law? 17 18 MR. FETZER: (Nods in the affirmative.) 19 THE COURT: Okay. Yes? 20 MR. FETZER: Yes. 2.1 THE COURT: Okay. And this has to -- you're 22 objecting in the context of my order granting Plaintiff's 23 motion for DNA testing? 24 MR. FETZER: Yes, Your Honor. It's that we have 25 an unreliable source of obtainment. I mean, the sample is alleged to have come directly from the medical examiner 1 2 who is not in -- that's not the proper source. He ought 3 not to have the sample, and it should have been obtained from the state agency, that is the repository. 4 5 THE COURT: All right. Why don't we go back to 6 what the actual facts are, Mr. Zimmerman. I think I 7 understand the issue but -- or someone else is going to take this one up? 8 9 MS. BERLINGER: I will be. Yes, Your Honor. 10 THE COURT: Okay. So what did you, so we're all on the same page, tell me what you had hoped to accomplish 11 first with the Friedman affidavit. What does the Friedman 12 13 affidavit stand for? 14 MS. BERLINGER: To provide an independent source 15 or confirmation for the DNA test. 16 THE COURT: And Sinelnikov? 17 MS. BERLINGER: That's just to establish the 18 chain of custody of the DNA sample. 19 THE COURT: Now was -- were there one DNA test 20 or two DNA tests? 2.1 MS. BERLINGER: So there was the -- I believe 22 that there was the one that was done through this court. 23 THE COURT: Correct. MS. BERLINGER: And then Plaintiff also obtained 24 25 a separate test.

1 THE COURT: Okay. And these affidavits are for 2 the separate test? 3 MS. BERLINGER: Yes. THE COURT: All right. And do you -- and your 4 5 response to Dr. Fetzer's claim that somehow or another Connecticut law makes the test inadmissible? 6 7 MS. BERLINGER: Even if it was a legal impossibility for the ME's office to obtain a blood sample 8 for a DNA analysis, it doesn't mean that Dr. Friedman's 10 opinion is unreliable, which is the standard for expert 11 testimony. Mr. Fetzer's theory is based on his 12 interpretation of a statute. 13 THE COURT: Do you agree with his interpretation 14 as a lawyer? 15 MS. BERLINGER: What happened here -- we have 16 testimony from Dr. Carver as well that he took samples 17 from Noah Pozner's body and stored them in the toxicology 18 lab at the office of the chief medical examiner. That is 19 what happened. 20 THE COURT: And this -- and these are the 2.1 samples from which both the court ordered DNA test was 22 obtained and Dr. Friedman's test? 23 MS. BERLINGER: Correct. 24 THE COURT: So Dr. Fetzer, I don't see any 25 evidence that you've submitted that suggests that the

1 samples weren't taken from that location and that --2 MR. FETZER: Well --3 THE COURT: -- they were biological samples of Noah Pozner. 4 5 MR. FETZER: Well, I believe they're biological samples of a son of the Plaintiff, but that it's all been 6 7 grossly misrepresented, Your Honor, which is why I sought to broaden the DNA testing to include Michael Vabner, 8 9 whose photographs as a child have been presented as the 10 Noah Pozner --11 THE COURT: Okay. I'll get to that. 12 MR. FETZER: Yes. 13 THE COURT: So what evidence -- you say 14 essentially, Judge, don't believe this for a word because it's not reliable. You understand that's not an objection 15 16 under the rules of evidence. What is your --MR. FETZER: It is --17 18 THE COURT: What is your --19 MR. FETZER: It is an admissibility argument. 20 You are correct, Your Honor. 2.1 THE COURT: Okay. 22 MR. FETZER: That it is a matter of Connecticut 23 law that this was improper -- improper processing of a sample, that it ought to have come from the center and not 24 25 from the medical examiner.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

THE COURT: Do you have any evidence to dispute the actual process that is described in these two affidavits?

MR. FETZER: I believe it was a bona fide test of a DNA sample, that simply there's a fraud taking place here because it was not from a decedent named Noah Pozner but from a living person named Michael Vabner.

THE COURT: Okay. What evidence do I have to -if I were to agree with you, what evidence could I cite that would be admissible to support that factual proposition?

MR. FETZER: Well, this is very interesting, because they would like to dispute my expert on photogrammetry who did a study, not knowing the parties involved, where I asked based upon his demonstrated expertise in this area whether this photograph, which the Plaintiff has acknowledged being a photograph of --

THE COURT: Okay. Time out. We'll get to that photo and Michael Vabner and all. I'll get to that.

But, look, if I understand the issue, it's fairly simple. One reason or another when this -- the Plaintiff's position is that when Sandy Hook happened, Noah Pozner was taken and DNA or tissue samples were acquired from the child. This is what they're saying. And those samples were taken from, they say Noah Pozner,

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25 and those samples then and still now are in the Connecticut Medical Examiner's office. And that when I ordered the DNA test and that when they did the DNA test, they started with those samples. Right?

MS. BERLINGER: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay. Do you have any -- I mean, any evidence to contradict that portion of what they're saying?

MR. FETZER: Your Honor precluded me from offering all the evidence that Sandy Hook was in fact a FEMA drill presented as a mass murder to promote gun control. I have a mass of evidence to demonstrate that's what happened. This is an elaborate charade involving key figures in the state of Connecticut. It was a program administrated by the Obama administration. He nullified the Smith-Mundt Act of 1948 with the Smith-Mundt Modernization Act of 2012 to bring us Sandy Hook, where the Smith-Mundt Act of 1948 precluded the use of the same techniques and propaganda --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. FETZER: -- disinformation within the United States --

THE COURT: Okay. Doctor. Doctor. Stop.

MR. FETZER: -- that heretofore have only been used without.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

THE COURT: Dr. Fetzer, I understand. And as you know, we -- we're focussing on the Plaintiff's claim. And I know you think it's -- they're using a very limited and specific single cause of action to frustrate your ability to relitigate whether or not Sandy Hook happened. I understand all that. I'm focussing just on their motion -- Excuse me, I'm focusing on your motion here and you say -- I need to rule on your motion.

MR. FETZER: Yes.

THE COURT: And you say I should strike Friedman and Sinelnikov's affidavits. I'm just trying to understand. And I -- and to rule on your motion, I have to know two things. What's -- what are the facts and what is the law. And you're saying that I should strike them because they're unreliable. Well, now you say it's because of -- what did you say, admissibility or --

MR. FETZER: I believe the DNA methodology is perfectly appropriate, Your Honor. The point is that the samples were not obtained from the appropriate source and therefore --

THE COURT: And that the samples you say did not come from Noah Pozner but came from Michael Vabner.

MR. FETZER: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. FETZER: Which -- which I would have sought

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

to prove had you allowed my expansion of DNA, this would have altered the entire character of the case.

THE COURT: Well, what's done is done on that, although, for purposes of the -- so I keep this in my mind, obviously, I -- what you're saying is that you think that's what it is and if you could do that then you would prove it. But right now you're essentially saying that the suggestion that the medical examiner's office possesses DNA material from Noah Pozner is false.

MR. FETZER: Well, no. It's not legal. That it was in violation of Connecticut law, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. I'll rule on that. I -- I disagree with you. I do not see that Connecticut law so clearly states what it is that you are suggesting.

Alternatively, anyway, Dr. Fetzer, not being an expert on Connecticut law, even if -- even if for some reason Connecticut law did not allow for the repository of the genetic material to be in the place in which it is, the question is, is whether, as you say, the valid testing of this genetic material yielded the acceptable conclusion offered by Friedman and Sinelnikov that --

MR. FETZER: Your --

THE COURT: -- Lenny Pozner is the genetic father of Noah Pozner, whose genetic material is in the place that it's in. So for those reasons I'm going to

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

deny the Motion to Strike the Affidavits of Friedman and Sinelnikov, and I'll deny your request for sanctions.

Let's turn to your Motion to Strike the Green Affidavit. Dr. Fetzer, is there anything additional you want to offer in support of your Motion to Strike the Green Affidavit?

MR. FETZER: I believe it's laid out clearly, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I have reviewed Plaintiff's Opposition to Defendant's Motion to Strike Mr. Green's Affidavit.

Dr. Fetzer, so I -- what is -- what's your -what's your concern of the Green affidavit? Again, you don't give me any evidence.

MR. FETZER: We --

THE COURT: You -- admissible evidence. You point to some -- I think you pointed to something you looked up on the internet, a license look up. First of all, is there -- do you agree there is a person named Samuel Green?

MR. FETZER: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay. So he exists. Is Samuel Green in the funeral business?

MR. FETZER: He's licensed as an embalmer, Your Honor.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

THE COURT: Okay. Is there a business called Abraham L. Green and Sons. MR. FETZER: There is, Your Honor.

THE COURT: And that's the same Abraham L. Green and Sons who filled out a portion of the death certificate?

MR. FETZER: So it does appear, Your Honor, but he was not licensed as a funeral director and there -there are a variety of issues that are related to the death certificate because it wasn't done in a timely fashion, which we can address at the --

THE COURT: Okay. I'm just trying to rule on your motion --

MR. FETZER: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: -- to strike the affidavit.

So what are your evidentiary objections to -for my looking at the Green affidavit? Let me say, when you move to strike an affidavit, it's essentially then we toss it aside, nothing contained therein should be considered by the Court. If you deny the motion to strike the affidavit, then the affidavit comes in. I -- it then becomes facts from which this Court then can rely on the underlying motion for summary judgment.

So what are your evidentiary objections to the Green averments in his affidavit? What are you worried about?

MR. FETZER: Well, that -- just creating a false impression that there was actually a real body that was really buried and so forth, Your Honor. I mean, it's an elaborate fraud. I'm sorry to have to be so blunt about it, but that's what's going on.

I appreciate the Court's desire to focus on the death certificates. I've accepted that and I intend to pursue that with all of my ability. So, you know, this is a secondary but part of an elaborate charade that's being perpetrated on the Court and the public.

THE COURT: Well, I understand your positions, but my job as a judge is to sit up here, a couple feet higher than everyone else, wearing a black robe, to guide the parties as they litigate against each other in the proper course of -- of courtroom conduct and the rules of civil procedure and the rules of evidence.

Every party has a constitutional right to come and press their case before the Court. All I know is Leonard Pozner has a defamation case against the Defendants, and I do acknowledge the Defendants have a counterclaim against Leonard Pozner. A judge's responsibility, Dr. Fetzer, is just to rule on the questions that are asked of the Court as the parties continue to prepare the case for the ultimate day in which they will be judged by a jury of their peers. My job is to rule on the evidence.

2.1

Now, you might say that's a rather myopic view,

Judge. I'd like you to sit back and consider this whole issue. I have not read your book. I do not intend to read your book because it would not be appropriate for me to start educating myself about the larger controversy. I understand your position, but that's not my function. My function is, is to make sure the Plaintiff keeps the preparation of his case in accordance with the rules in Wisconsin and acknowledge and appreciate the defense and your right to discovery and your right to file your own motions and to oppose those.

So --

MR. FETZER: Where --

THE COURT: -- let me ask you a couple questions, because once again, you say on page 3 of your brief, paragraph 6, you fault Mr. Green for refers to a burial permit. You say it's not been provided and you say, "because the permit itself is the best evidence, his reference to it must be ignored as hearsay."

There is this thing called the best evidence rule and not reflected in the rules of civil procedure or the rules of evidence, it applies. I'm not sure you understand what the rule is and whether it applies here.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

Do you know what the best evidence rule is, Dr. Fetzer? MR. FETZER: I may not understand it perfectly, Your Honor. THE COURT: Well the best evidence rule, as I understand it, is not an obligation for a party to give us the best source of any particular factual proposition, it's when the facts underlying a particular factual proposition don't accurately reflect what is proposed and that there is other maybe primary source that would be better.

For instance, if a party would ask me to accept quotations from a document the other side says are taken out of context, and rather than for me to just trust the contextual spin that the party puts on it, I say, you know, better evidence of that is just give me a page out of the book rather than you paraphrasing it.

That there would be better evidence does not necessarily mean it's hearsay. Hearsay, Dr. Fetzer, is an out-of-court statement offered for the proof.

Now, obviously, I don't even know, Mr. Zimmerman, if you have the burial permit. Mr. Green didn't see the need for the burial permit, he just referred to it. Is this a red herring or a straw man?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: I -- I think, Your Honor, Mr. Green was just describing the process of obtaining the

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

burial permit, not the contents of the permit itself. But, we do have the burial permit, a sealed copy with us here today, happy to introduce it into evidence.

THE COURT: I don't know that I need -- I don't know that a burial permit is material. Are you suggesting it is?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: It is not for that statement, no.

THE COURT: Is it material?

MR. FETZER: I do not believe either of these affidavits is material following the Court's observations during conference calls that this -- this case revolves around the death certificate and its authenticity and that the Court wasn't concerned about the cause of death, the nature of death, or any issues related thereto which suggests to me that it may be a motion in limine to exclude all of these irrelevancies is what's appropriate from the Defendants.

THE COURT: Well, okay. I do understand, at least, and, Mr. Zimmerman, correct me if I'm wrong, I did understand the contents -- context of the Green affidavit, acknowledging you accurately, to the Plaintiff's benefit, are reiterating what I said. It didn't make much difference, other extraneous circumstances. We were going to focus on whether it was a false birth certificate --

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25 death certificate --

MR. FETZER: Death certificate.

THE COURT: -- or not.

Now, I do note that by easily looking at Exhibit 2, there are -- is a portion of the death certificate that implicates Mr. Green and the Abraham L. Green and Sons, and I accepted and reviewed the affidavit of Green for the context of confirming the accuracy of those portions of the death certificate attributed to him and his business. Is that what you were intending me to do?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: That's certainly part of it, Your Honor. There is a defense raised in Dr. Fetzer's Motion for Summary Judgment for which the burial permit is relevant and material and Mr. Green's testimony about the process that he used to obtain the burial permit used in the death certificate becomes important information.

THE COURT: Okay. Is there anything more you'd like to say in support of your motion to strike the Green affidavit, Dr. Fetzer?

MR. FETZER: Simply that in accordance with the Court's desire to simplify the case for trial, that these issues appear to be immaterial to whether or not the death certificate is authentic or not, for which there's an abundance of proof, and it doesn't hinge upon these considerations, the affidavits from either of the parties

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

that are on the subject of discussion here and now.

THE COURT: Well, not to mislead you, I don't have a perfect picture of looking into the future of how Mr. Green and Abraham L. Green and Sons factor into the Plaintiffs as they present their case. So I can't say what you're suggesting is, Fine, if this is not relevant, Judge, I'm not going to be hearing about this later on. I'm not saying that to you.

MR. FETZER: Yeah.

THE COURT: I'm just judging your affidavit. reviewed your -- I'm judging the affidavit. I reviewed your objections. In particular, your paragraph 4; paragraph 6, your reference to hearsay; paragraph 7, this suggestion somehow or another that it's a friendly deposition; paragraph 8 -- I went through your document, Mr. Fetzer, trying to figure out what you were concerned about it and then applied the rules of evidence that would be attendant to a motion to strike.

I also did review the Dugan case, which you say stands for the proposition the Court can strike an affidavit as unreliable. I do not think that's really a correct interpretation of the Dugan case, more so, I know of no Wisconsin case that recognizes this kind of pejorative unreliability. There are motions to strike, but I believe they're -- they're -- they are formulaic in to this issue, whoever wants to answer, if I granted the Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment, you're still asking for a trial, are you not?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor, on damages.

I believe the motion for partial summary judgment on the conditional privilege is appropriate, because it does shorten the trial, simplifies the issues, potentially reduces the number of witnesses. I don't see that if I then agreed with you on the underlying question, let's say if I said there's no genuine issue as to any of the material facts relating to the legal question of whether the -- for example, whether the -- whether the death certificate is false or not, I don't see -- how is it that would change your trial strategy, other than now we create a risk of a de novo -- a de novo review of a partial motion for summary judgment?

It seemed to me that you're still going to have to provide context, you're still going to have to -- even on a trial for damages, you have to explain what the issue -- what your client's position was, what happened. Presumably, to give some context and some gravitas to the claim for the amount of damages you apparently are seeking, you'll want to introduce and probably invite Dr. Fetzer to respond as to why, notwithstanding the Court's order, why he thinks that it's false. Am I -- if I grant summary judgment, are you going to file a motion in limine to say Dr. Fetzer is precluded from even saying to the jury it's false? You follow me? I don't see what -- this is where the -- the motion practice bumps up against the trial practice.

2.1

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor.

I think from a practical perspective, the trial would be completely different. My understanding today, based on what I know, is that a trial on damages in this case would involve Mr. Pozner as a witness and one expert who can testify about the mental impact or damage to his emotional state.

Whereas a trial on all of the issues in this case appear to involve multiple experts on both sides and a handful of fact witnesses, in addition to presumably playing tapes from Dr. Carver or Mr. Green if they're unable to appear here in person. So I think that the nature and the scope of the trial would be completely different and the potential for error to arise in the case in chief in the liability case is not insubstantial.

There are substantial risks that, for example, statements are made during trial that are prejudicial or are outside of the scope of the liability case. I think that's substantially diminished if we're trying a case on damages. It may well be, Your Honor, that we can do a damages only trial in a day and that there is some context required but not a, you know, fairly substantial showing about the validity of the underlying documents all supported by witness testimony of individuals here in a trial who are then subject to cross-examination.

2.1

I do.

THE COURT: Well if I did what you say you're entitled to, what would be Dr. Fetzer and Mr. Palecek's role in such a trial?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: That's a great question. I -THE COURT: I like to ask great questions. I don't always ask great questions, but occasionally, maybe

MR. ZIMMERMAN: I can't say what they would want their role to be. I'm sure that they would want to cross-examine Leonard Pozner on the scope of his damages or the damage to his reputation. I'm sure that they would want to cross-examine Plaintiff's expert on the methodology or the application of the methodology that he used to this case. I'm not sure their role, Your Honor, goes anywhere beyond that.

I think the Court can instruct the jury that the underlying question of defamation has been decided by the Court as a matter of law and the jury is not to consider it, and we are here to hear -- we are in the court to hear

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

from Mr. Pozner about how this defamation injured him.

MR. FETZER: Be -- before we move too far down the yellow brick road, Your Honor, am I mistaken or do I have an opportunity to speak about the defamation issue about the death certificate in its fraudulent character?

THE COURT: Oh, you will. You will.

MR. FETZER: Okay.

THE COURT: This is -- Dr. Fetzer, Mr. Palecek, this is this gray area in the law that, you know, traditionally, a motion for summary judgment is, I win. There's no genuine issue as to fact.

Let's say if it was a contract dispute, you didn't pay your credit card bill. Credit card company says, I can prove everything I'm entitled to. liquidated damages. Summary judgment. Final order for purposes of appeal. We don't have a trial.

The nature of this cause of action doesn't have liquidated damages. They're asking for a million dollars. They can't ask me to come to that conclusion. That's a question only that the jury can ask -- answer.

So the gray area, as I alluded to, is where -and this is one in which your lawyers would help you figure out strategically how to maneuver is to say, well, as a judge, for judicial efficiency, first of all, I want to make sure nothing I say or should be construed as a disinclination to deny a party a motion that's properly supported under the facts of the law. I'm not saying that I'm not going to decide it, but strategically, then is there -- I'm asking -- I was asking the Plaintiff exactly what he wanted and how it fits into the reality that we're going to have a trial. And Mr. Zimmerman mentioned two things I want to circle back to.

2.1

And, again, the context was, is for purposes of reference, I granted the motion for partially summary judgment on the conditional privilege, because I know now that it simplified your discovery issue, you didn't oppose it, it reduced the length of trial, it reduced the number of issues, and potentially reduced the number of witnesses. I can see the advantage to that worth taking the risk — actually, there was zero risk because you conceded it, but worth doing that.

Here, you said two things, Mr. Zimmerman, and I thought about this. First of all, I don't think there's anything wrong with the Plaintiff trying to simplify their case. Your witnesses have all been deposed, correct?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: I'm not sure that's correct,
Your Honor. Dr. -- Dr. Carver has been deposed and Mr. Green has been deposed.

THE COURT: And those depositions could be their trial testimony?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: I believe that's correct. 1 2 Your Honor. 3 THE COURT: All right. Depositions can be used because they're -- and did Mr. -- did you participate in 4 those depositions? 5 6 MR. FETZER: I did in the Carver and in the 7 Pozner depositions. THE COURT: And did you -- how about the third 8 9 one? 10 MR. FETZER: No. Green? No. I wasn't -- I was not involved in that. 11 12 THE COURT: And why didn't you go to that one? MR. FETZER: It all came up very late that I 13 even discovered I could participate by telephone. They 14 were being conducted in Connecticut, Your Honor. I had to 15 16 scramble, put together exhibits. I was able to ask 17 Dr. Carver a number of questions and some of his answers 18 were significant. 19 THE COURT: Okay. So I'm mindful of the cost 20 and inconvenience to witnesses to travel to Wisconsin from 2.1 Connecticut. But it appears that those were properly 22 noticed depositions, and the witness is otherwise 23 unavailable for trial, that that testimony could be introduced without additional inconvenience to the witness 24 25 or cost, other than just taking the transcript -- were they videotaped? 1 2 MR. ZIMMERMAN: They were videotaped, Your 3 Honor. THE COURT: So you could create video clips to 4 get the evidence in fairly succinctly for those witnesses. 5 6 Similarly, now your Plaintiff's experts, have 7 those been deposed? MR. ZIMMERMAN: They have not been deposed. No, 8 9 Your Honor. 10 THE COURT: And those are all out of state? 11 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Dr. Friedman is in Milwaukee. 12 THE COURT: All right. Okay. MR. ZIMMERMAN: Dr. Baird is out of state. 13 14 THE COURT: Yeah, but --15 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yeah. 16 THE COURT: So --17 MR. ZIMMERMAN: I --18 THE COURT: -- I don't have a clear picture. 19 Mr. Zimmerman, if you said, for instance, if we -- if I 20 went down the road of taking up the issues you present and 2.1 call them motions for partial summary judgment, much like 22 the conditional privilege, if I said that simplified, I 23 understand. Like, for example, if the question was, is there 24 25 any genuine dispute over the fact that Leonard Pozner is the father of Noah Pozner based on the genetic -- the two genetic tests, I could rule on that. That then would simplify substantially the concept of having to prove the genetic -- the results of those two experts, right? I can understand that.

2.1

I could say there's no genuine dispute as to any of the materiel facts as to the falsity of the death certificate. I could see that question. But I don't know quite what it is you mean when you say, Well, Judge, now I'm entitled to judgment as a matter of law. What do you mean -- what specifically, because I think in fairness to Dr. Fetzer and Mr. Palecek and to me, we need to know what is -- what I'm deciding, so we don't get in a situation where they don't know what their role is at trial. Can they say Sandy Hook never happened? Am I going to sort of have pre-trial motions in limine to prevent them from saying things?

I don't -- I don't have a -- knowing that there's going to be a trial, I'm -- I'm concerned about circumscribing anyone's right to defend themselves. I will do it in a heartbeat where the law requires me to, but I think I try to say that motions in limine, which motions would limit the evidence and your -- things you could say should be so specific as to everybody knows where the lines are so no one inadvertently crosses them.

2.1

I don't -- your residual motion for summary judgment, I'm not sure exactly what you want me to do.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: I think, Your Honor, and I'm certain that Wisconsin law allows this, is to grant summary judgment on the liability question, determine as a matter of law there are no factual disputes as to any of the elements of defamation and therefore, the Defendants defamed the Plaintiff. The jury is not going to hear that aspect in the case or try it. Wisconsin statute allows for then a trial on damages. It's definitely contemplated under Wisconsin law that we would be in exactly the factual scenario you're describing, and at that point I believe the Court is supposed to enter summary judgment. If there are no disputed issues of material fact then summary judgment, I believe the language is shall, be granted.

Now I understand that there will be questions about what we can and cannot say at trial. I'm sure there will be motions in limine about what we can say, and I'm certain there will be motions in limine about what the Defendants can say. That's going to happen no matter what the scope of the triable issues may be. The nature of this case, the narrow scope of the claim that we've asserted, made that a foregone conclusion. I think at the time we filed this Complaint, what those motions in limine may be is not yet certain. And as we file motions in limine, I think the Court will evaluate them given the issues that are to be decided by the jury.

2.1

So for example, we may file a motion saying they're not allowed to argue that Sandy Hook was a FEMA drill. That's so far outside of the scope of this case that it's not properly before the jury because it doesn't go to any question the jury is supposed to answer.

But when we --

THE COURT: Well I've got to tell you,

Mr. Zimmerman, like the little speech I gave Dr. Fetzer, in his defense, my job isn't really then to -- to issue a series of rulings that say you can't do this, you can't do that, you can't do this, you can't do that, so basically, all I want you to do is come to trial, sit there, and don't open your mouth. I mean, it's a really fine line.

And I know -- I mean, I -- I think everybody -the jury is going to want to know and the jury really has to know some context to the underlying cause of action.
So is the word -- do you agree, the jury is going to know this is a case about a boy who allegedly died at Sandy Hook. Right?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: I suspect that's true. I suspect Mr. Pozner will testify --

THE COURT: Yeah.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: -- that his son died. Where that line is, I think has yet to be determined.

But I think, Your Honor, respectfully, that's different than saying, even though we have established that there are no fact disputes, we're still going to let the jury evaluate that question again. I mean, that takes away the potential for a plaintiff to bring a motion for summary judgment if the plaintiff doesn't have a liquidated damages clause, and I respectfully don't think that's the scenario. That's not the statutory scheme that the Wisconsin Legislature adopted. They specifically state we can move for summary judgment on liability, even though we have to try damages.

I'm not saying it doesn't put Your Honor in a challenging position. We will -- no matter what we do in this case, have to work with each other to try to narrow the dispute that we put in front of you as motions in limine. But I think to say even if we've met our burden on summary judgment we can't have it, would be inconsistent with the rules of civil procedure.

THE COURT: Okay. Well let's -- Dr. Fetzer and Mr. Palecek, Mr. Zimmerman is right. The law does obligate me, as much as I've said many times before, if people ask me questions, I have the obligation to answer the question. I can't say and I won't say here that I won't answer a question, I'm just going to then take it under advisement and we'll see you at trial. I think there are a lot of decisions to be made.

2.1

But -- but let's go back at least for a moment to where we started. There are four elements to defamation. I'm going to start from the bottom and work up, just so we're on the same page. Do you agree, Dr. Fetzer, Mr. Palecek, that there's no genuine issue as to the fourth element that the communication is unprivileged, given the Court's now ruling based on your concession of the absence of the journalistic privilege?

MR. FETZER: Well, it was published in the book and I've asserted it on many occasions, Your Honor. So to that extent, and granting now that the Plaintiff for the sake of this trial is being regarded as a private person, they were unprivileged.

THE COURT: Okay. Do you agree with that, Mr. Palecek?

MR. PALECEK: Yes.

THE COURT: All right. Third element. The communication tends to harm one's reputation lowering him or her in the estimation of the community or deterring third persons from associating or dealing with him or her. Now that's sort of an abstract principle, but the allegation that you've made against Mr. Pozner, if you're 1 wrong, which I know you guys say you're not, but academically speaking, Professor Fetzer, you agree that 2 3 the accusations that you've made are ones in which if untrue, would harm one's reputation? 4 MR. FETZER: You mean if -- oh, the accusations 5 6 if untrue? 7 THE COURT: Right. MR. FETZER: Presumably, Your Honor, yes, 8 9 speaking to the hypothetical where, indeed, I do not 10 believe there's been any harm to this man's reputation 11 because he's been a participant -- a willing participant 12 in an elaborate charade. 13 THE COURT: Okay. But --14 MR. FETZER: I understand the hypothetical. Ιf we are wrong, I'm willing to concede that it would 15 16 ostensibly harm his reputation and standing. 17 THE COURT: Do you agree with that, Mr. Palecek? 18 MR. PALECEK: Yes, I do. 19 THE COURT: Okay. Number 2, the communicated by 20 speech, conduct, or in writing to the person other than 2.1 the one defamed. Dr. Fetzer, you've said that there's no 22 dispute as to that element? 23 MR. FETZER: Yes, Your Honor. 24 THE COURT: And you agree with that, 25 Mr. Palecek?

MR. PALECEK: I do, yes.

THE COURT: All right. So this really comes down to whether it's a false statement, right,

Mr. Zimmerman?

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. That's correct.

THE COURT: Motions for summary judgment are that when there's no genuine issue as to any of the material facts then the Plaintiff is asking for judgment as a matter of law on the first element.

Plaintiff asserts that all the evidence that they've submitted, which is not genuinely disputed or not disputed or not rebutted by admissible evidence or not rebutted by admissible authenticated evidence entitles the Plaintiff to judgment as a matter of law, that the accusation as set forth in Defendants' book and - Defendants' book and Defendant Fetzer's blog are false.

Just so I make a record, I have reviewed the Plaintiff's Proposed Findings of Fact. I've reviewed each individually all of, Dr. Fetzer's, your response to the Plaintiff's Proposed Undisputed Facts. I also reviewed all the other filings with regard to all the other facts that have been submitted and the briefs that have been filed.

What I ordinarily do is I go through all the proposed findings of fact, because on a motion for summary judgment, if there's no genuine issue of those facts, then those facts will be accepted for purposes of summary judgment. It provides, albeit a rather meticulous and laborious process, a factual underpinning of whether then the moving party's entitled to judgment as a matter of law.

The difficulty though is some of these -- and I have notes overruling or sustaining your objections,

Dr. Fetzer, but I got to the point where it was difficult because you were making recurrent mistakes. For example, right off the bat on number 1, the proposition is that Plaintiff and Veronique De La Rosa were married in 2003, but divorced in 2014. That is exactly what Mr. Pozner says at paragraph 21 in his affidavit. You say that's inadmissible, and you say that the statement by the Plaintiff is not the best evidence of marriage. We should look at his certified copy of the marriage license. You understand, that's -- that's not an appropriate response to what the Plaintiff is proposing?

Now this is a rather actually somewhat immaterial fact anyway, but if you thought that they were not married or they were not married in 2003 or they were not divorced in 2014, then to dispute that you would say, Judge, that is disputed because I -- I took a deposition of Veronique De La Rosa and she said she never married him or I went down to the place where the marriage licenses are kept, and I -- here's an affidavit from the record custodian. There's no marriage license on file. You have an obligation of actually coming forward with evidence. You can't just say, I don't like that. Denied.

So your motion your -- your -- to that extent then your objection is overruled.

Number 2. Noah Samuel Pozner was born at 8:34 a.m. on November 28, 2006, so on and so forth, citing the Zimmerman affidavit, Exhibit C and Exhibit D. You say irrelevant. Irrelevance is not an objection to a proposed finding of fact on a motion for summary judgment. The appropriate nomenclature, Dr. Fetzer, would be it's not material. I don't care whether these details are immaterial to really the question of whether the death certificate is false or not.

Now, I would ignore immaterial or relevance objection because if it's not relevant then you just say, well, I don't want to fight about it. It's not material to the motion for summary judgment.

But then you object on hearsay. Now, an objection to the hearsay, a government records exception. The exhibits are -- are not hearsay.

More importantly, you know, I don't -- if you think that -- I don't know quite what you were saying, other than you're trying to say, seemed to me, methodically not to make any concession to any of the details that would create an impression you're going to admit that there ever was a human being called Noah Pozner. Is that what you were -- your strategy?

2.1

MR. FETZER: Well there's someone called Noah Pozner, but he appears to be a fiction, Your Honor. And that's -- that's been an elaborate process here of fabricating documents and creating a fake case that is mind boggling, but I agree, the point that there's immateriality here virtually throughout this list of proposed findings of fact because the issue is the authenticity of the death certificate. And I'm perfectly happy that the case rises or falls on that basis exclusively, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Well, but I understand the Plaintiffs -- Plaintiff has to methodically, Dr. Fetzer and Mr. Palecek, they have to methodically put their case in. And, you're right, the issue is the falsity of the statement that the death certificate was a fabrication or not. The Plaintiffs are laying out a case of saying, well, you need to start where a man and woman got married and they had a child and that certified copy of the birth certificate shows the child was born in this place at that time with this weight, I assume, and with the name Noah 1 2 Pozner. 3 MR. FETZER: It's --THE COURT: Obviously, it's relevant, because a 4 5 death certificate has to be, presumably, a death certificate for a human being, and they're establishing 6 7 that there was this human being born. MR. FETZER: Well, they're presenting a case, 8 9 Your Honor, most certainly, but it's a fabricated case, 10 just as the death certificate is a fabrication. 11 THE COURT: But what evidence -- what evidence 12 do you have for me that the birth certificate, which purports to record Noah Pozner's death, is not --13 14 MR. FETZER: Birth, Your Honor. THE COURT: Birth certificate is not real? 15 16 MR. FETZER: Your Honor, I've been focussing on 17 the death certificate as the Court directed in seeking to, 18 you know -- I grant that I'm making many mistakes by 19 virtue of being a nonlawyer. I grant that, Your Honor. 20 But the case that the death certificate is a fabrication 2.1 is overwhelming and decisive, in my opinion, and I'm 22 hoping that the Court will recognize, when I review the 23 evidence later this morning. 24 THE COURT: Well, you are making -- I mean, I'll 25 be blunt. You are making mistakes, both of you, and this is why you should have lawyers. Because if your position was that there never was a person named Noah Pozner and that the death certificate of this nonperson is a fabrication, much as if this birth certificate is not -- because you can't -- you can't have -- if a person isn't real and they never died because they never existed, then presumably, you take the position that this paper trail, including the birth certificate, is equally false and fabricated. This was just this plan by the, as you say, the deep state --

2.1

MR. FETZER: Yes.

THE COURT: -- and the Obama administration.

But now when the Plaintiffs are suggesting,

Judge, here's the certified copy of the birth certificate, and you don't respond, you understand that there's no genuine issue as to the fact that I'm obligated to conclude that on that time or date by these two people a human being called Noah Pozner was born, and if he was born --

MR. FETZER: And --

THE COURT: -- whether he died at Sandy Hook, every -- I can take judicial notice of the fact that every human being dies at some point, and every person when they die has a death certificate. So --

MR. FETZER: But --

2.1

THE COURT: -- you understand that the Plaintiffs are methodically laying out a claim to prove the legitimacy of the death certificate and all the information in it.

MR. FETZER: But the fact of the matter is nobody died at Sandy Hook, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Well --

MR. FETZER: Which means any death certificate for an alleged decedent from Sandy Hook is a fabrication.

THE COURT: Well --

MR. FETZER: And I have ample proof here that indeed that's the case in this instance, which leads me to appreciate the wisdom of the Court's counsel that we were going to focus on the death certificates and not the circumstances, whether there were or were not a Noah Pozner or not. It's whether or not this death certificate is authentic, and I guarantee it is not.

THE COURT: All right. Well, I'll just make a record. I don't -- as much as I hate to say it, I think I need to -- if we're going to rule on these, I need to make a record of all his objections to your proposed findings of fact to give due course, even though you're kind of sliding each way, I think I need to take care to consider all that you wrote, Dr. Fetzer. So let's just go through them quickly. I'll make a record.

Number 3. The attending physician was Donald 1 Goldstein. You say, Same objection for 2. That objection 2 3 is overruled. 4. Noah Pozner's mother, Ms. De La Rosa, 4 delivered twins. You say, Same response as No. 2. That's 5 6 overruled. I'm not reading every rule on the proposed 7 finding of fact. MR. FETZER: Yeah. 8 9 THE COURT: Number 5. Until he was named, Noah 10 Pozner was referred to in his medical records as "Baby A." 11 Again, you're reiterating your objection, Dr. Fetzer, as 12 No. 2 and now No. 4. Those are overruled. You also want me to review an interview linked 13 14 to in response to No. 4. The problem with that, in No. 15 4 --16 MR. FETZER: May I simply observe, Your Honor, that we made efforts to obtain counsel. It's a hot 17 18 potato. Nobody wants to deal with it. We have made many 19 efforts to obtain counsel, Your Honor. I completely agree 20 that we'd be better off with counsel, but no one wants to 2.1 touch it. 22 THE COURT: I understand. And that's what you 23 said before Mr. Zimmerman came in, but -- but why do I keep saying this to you? I don't want to make you feel 24 25 worse and worse and worse. I think it's going to help explain why some -- I have to make a ruling and I can't -- I can't be your counsel. I can't help you. You're going to -- you might have had some arguments that aren't being made because you're not trained in the law. I'm trying to be fair, but the -- but we have an adversarial system in our courtroom -- in these United States, and when people are unrepresented, it -- it presents some challenges.

MR. FETZER: You're at a clear disadvantage.

Your Honor, Mr. Palecek and I have a certain character.

We are committed to social justice. We are committed to the truth. We are doing our best to pursue it.

This whole case was an abuse of process, Your Honor. It's obvious it wasn't a legitimate case. It's intended to silence critics of Sandy Hook, just as happened in the case of Wolfgang Halbig where the Plaintiff explained on a blog where he was asked how he lost the Halbig case, he acknowledged, yes, he had, but he succeeded because Halbig had taken down his Sandy Hook Justice blog, and that the point was to show hoaxers that they're going to be taken to court and it will drag out a long time. That's from the Plaintiff, Your Honor. That's what's going on here.

THE COURT: Okay. I've gone through all your proposed findings of fact, Dr. Fetzer, and except for one, I'm overruling all your objections.

2.1

I'm going to sustain your objection, for the life of me, Mr. Zimmerman, on response to No. 9, Exhibit D, I think Dr. Fetzer is right. You cite page 32 for the proposition that Noah Pozner's birth certificate records indicated he was a healthy baby by noting he passed urine and stool. I can't find that on page 32.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: I'm sure I miscited it, Your Honor. It was on one page, but it's an immaterial fact for purposes of --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. FETZER: Your Honor, their findings of fact even claimed that Mike Palecek edited the book. I mean, Pozner admitted he's never read the book.

THE COURT: Time out.

MR. FETZER: They don't even --

THE COURT: Time out. So I have to make a record on your evidentiary objections, Dr. Fetzer. I've gone through. I'll sustain your objection on -- and I will disregard Proposed Finding of Fact No. 9.

Now, the Plaintiffs are suggesting, based on the undisputed facts, I should come to the conclusion today that your statement in the book, and I say that your, this includes now you, Mr. Palecek, that your statement in the book that, Noah Pozner's death certificate is a fake, which we have proven a dozen or more grounds -- on a dozen or more grounds, that I should make a conclusion as a 1 matter of law based on the undisputed evidence that that 2 3 is a false statement. The Plaintiffs are also asking me to conclude 4 that from your blog -- well, it's the quote. Where is the 5 6 blog quote, Mr. Zimmerman, on your --7 MR. FETZER: Paragraph 18 --MR. ZIMMERMAN: It's paragraph --8 MR. FETZER: -- of the Complaint, Your Honor. 10 MR. ZIMMERMAN: That's right. Paragraph 18 of 11 the Complaint. In the slideshow, Your Honor --12 THE COURT: Nine. MR. ZIMMERMAN: -- it is on slide 19. 13 14 THE COURT: That in your blog was a false 15 statement. That's what they say the evidence lead me to 16 conclude. What is your response, Dr. Fetzer? 17 MR. FETZER: Having offered courses in logic, 18 critical thinking, and scientific reasoning for 35 years, 19 I know a straw man when I see it. The Plaintiff has 20 presented a straw man, including death certificates that 2.1 are not the subject of this lawsuit. This lawsuit 22 revolves around a death certificate that was published in 23 the book, Nobody Died at Sandy Hook, of which the 24 Plaintiff has a copy. I wish to present this into 25 evidence.

1 THE BAILIFF: Here. Here. You can hand it to 2 Thank you. me.3 MR. FETZER: Page 181, Your Honor, to which Plaintiff has repeatedly referred. 4 THE COURT: Okay. Now I've been handed a book. 5 6 You've tabbed page 181. What do you want me to look at in 7 this book? MR. FETZER: The death certificate, Your Honor. 8 9 THE COURT: Okay. Just so I get this, is that 10 the same -- is that an image of Exhibit 2? 11 MR. FETZER: No. 12 THE COURT: Okay. Tell me what --MR. FETZER: Well, look at -- it's missing the 13 14 certification on the left side, Your Honor. This is where there's a shell game going on here. This is totally 15 16 fraudulent by the attorneys for the Plaintiff. 17 THE COURT: Okay. I should have asked this 18 better question. Is -- other than the redaction, and I 19 can appear to see the faint remanence of a seal to the 20 left, and maybe a border line, except for those three 2.1 aspects, I'm holding in my right hand Exhibit 2, is that 22 the image now set forth on page 181 of the book? 23 MR. FETZER: It is not, Your Honor. And Mr. Zimmerman said I should have obtained from the 24 25 Plaintiff a copy of what he obtained from Debbie Aurelia, but that's ridiculous, Your Honor. Who knows where that 1 death certificate came from. I'm being sued for the death 2 3 certificate in the book. The book does not have the certification, Your Honor. It's vertical on the side, on 4 5 the left-hand side. That's the most important element 6 that's missing here. It does not have the file number. 7 That's the same as what Mr. Zimmerman gave you. It has the wrong estimated time of death. And what does 8 9 estimated time of death if it -- mean if it doesn't mean 10 estimated time of death. Even if the official account has 11 the shooting allegedly taking --12 THE COURT: Okay. Dr. Fetzer. MR. FETZER: I -- I've read --13 14 THE COURT: Let me just sort of reorient you to really sort of the real issue. Okay. You've reiterated 15 16 all the points that you've made so far. Okay. 17 MR. FETZER: I --18 THE COURT: I followed along. The Plaintiffs 19 have responded point by point to all those. I'd like you 20 to reply. For example --2.1 MR. FETZER: Here. Here. 22 THE COURT: For example -- for example, he says, 23 that, yes, some of the copies don't have the state file 24 number. That's easily explained. The town doesn't have the state file number. When the state gets it, it does.

Some copies have a barely imperceptible embossed seal, but 1 2 that's because the photocopiers don't pick up on it. 3 MR. FETZER: It's --THE COURT: I want you to -- I will tell you 4 this, Dr. Fetzer, I understand all of their explanations, 5 6 and their explanations --7 MR. FETZER: Here --THE COURT: -- in my opinion, seem legitimate 8 9 and plausible and persuasive. I'll give you the 10 opportunity to focus in on those aspects that you think I 11 should rely to come to the conclusion there's a genuine 12 issue as to the --MR. FETZER: Your --13 14 THE COURT: -- question of whether it's -- a 15 statement was true or not and the statement being whether 16 it's a false or fabrication, because I've got to tell you, 17 all their answers seem to me to make sense. What is your 18 response? 19 MR. FETZER: My response is as follows, Your 20 Honor. 2.1 The death certificate for which I am being sued 22 is the one published in the book, Nobody Died at Sandy 23 Hook: It was a FEMA Drill to Promote Gun Control, which 24 has appeared as Chapter 11 coauthored with Kelley Watt in both first editions, 2015, and second, 2016. It is an expanded and revised version of an article that I originally published on Veterans Today on 6 August 2014, which included the death certificate for my characterization of which I have been sued. Kelley said it came from "Lenny." I published in VT and with Mike Palecek in both editions and we made no changes to its content.

2.1

It appears that I added a border, which is not one of the things that they complain about. The circumstances of this version's publication are not in issue. The death certificate that I received from Plaintiff via Kelley Watt is not certified by Newtown's Registrar of Vital Statistics, Debbie Aurelia, now Debbie Aurelia Halstead. Plaintiff has admitted to his conversations with Kelley and to having posted it on Noah's memorial page, Google Plus. So even though I may have added a border, for which I take responsibility, the rest came from him.

The file size is immaterial and varies with compression and reproduction. What matters is what is on it and what is not. Because it does not have the town registrar's certification on the side, it is therefore illegal and a fabrication, precisely as I maintain.

In his latest gambit, moreover, the Plaintiff attempts to prove too much. If the border makes a

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

Page 124 of 171

difference and the death certificate is on that very ground not bona fide, then the certificate that I described as a fabrication in the book is, in fact, a fabrication by Plaintiff's own contention. How ironic that Plaintiff thereby admits that I am right and my statement truthful, in which case I cannot be found guilty of defamation for my true affirmation.

If the death certificate published in the book were not the same as the one that Lenny published on his website, then the suit filed against me and my co-defendant, Mike Palecek, on 27 November 2018, would have had an entirely different character. The Complaint does not deny this is the same document that Lenny provided to Kelley Watt but instead attacks me for declaring it to be a fake and a fabrication. appropriate passage is from the Complaint read:

Paragraph 17. The second edition of Nobody Died at Sandy Hook accuses Plaintiff of issuing and/or possessing a forged copy of N.P.'s death certificate. In particular, page 183, of Nobody Died at Sandy Hook states: "Noah Pozner's death certificate is a fake, which we have proven on a dozen or more grounds." At page 232, the book states, "Mr. Pozner sent her a death certificate, which turned out to be a fabrication." At page 242, the book states, "As many Sandy Hook researches are aware, the very

1	document Pozner circulated in 2014, with its inconsistent
2	tones, fonts, and clear digital manipulation, was clearly
3	a forgery."
4	A comment from a contribution to the Sandy Hook
5	Memoranda for the President of the United States, edited
6	by Robert David Steele, has also been cited as being
7	defamatory:
8	18. Mr. Fetzer's publication of this false accusation
9	against Plaintiff was not limited to the book. He
10	repeated that false statement on one or more blog posts,
11	including, for example, phibetaiota.net/2018
12	THE COURT: I'm going Dr. Fetzer, I know
13	you're reading. Just if you read a little slower. My
14	court reporter is the best reporter you'll ever see,
15	but
16	MR. FETZER: Yes. I'll slow down.
17	THE COURT: If you could just slow down, please.
18	MR. FETZER: Certainly.
19	THE COURT: I want to make sure the record gets
20	everything
21	MR. FETZER: Thank you.
22	THE COURT: that you're saying.
23	MR. FETZER: Thank you, Your Honor. Shall I
24	back up a sentence?
25	THE COURT: No. No.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

MR. FETZER: Okay.

Phibetaiota.net/2018/08/james-fetzer-in-solidarity-withalex-jones-how-we-know-sandy-hook-was-a-fema-drill-nobodydied-obama-officials-confirmed-it-was-an-anti-gunpropaganda-exercise. That blog is dated August 5, 2018. There, Defendant Fetzer made the following false statement: "It [N.P.'s death certificate] turned out to be a fabrication, with the bottom half of a real death certificate and the top half of a fake, with no file number and the wrong estimated time of death at 11:00 a.m., when officially the shooting took place between 9:35 and 9:40 that morning." That statement is false, Plaintiff continues, both in its particular fact and in the main point, essence, or gist in the context in which it was made, because N.P.'s death certificate is not a fabrication or forgery. The context of that statement referred -- referred specifically to Plaintiff, the previous sentence reads: "Kelley Watt had over 100 hours of conversation with 'Lenny Pozner', who purports to be the father and who sent Kelley a death certificate for 'Noah' as proof that he had died, which we included in the book."

Notice there is no denial that the death certificate published in the book is the same as the death certificate that the Plaintiff made available to Kelley

Watt, who in turn shared it with me and with my co-defendant, when we edited and published the first edition of the book using CreateSpace, a subsidiary of amazon.com, and placed it on sale on 22 October 2018 [sic] only to be banned on 19 November 2015 after selling nearly 500 copies.

There were, incidentally, 13 contributors to the book, including six current or retired PhD professors, who determined that school had been closed by 2008, that there were no students there, and that it was done to promote gun control.

One of the contributors to the book, Paul Preston, who is himself a school administrator from the Los Angeles area, who has supervised drills of this kind, was so disturbed by what he saw being broadcast from Newtown that day that he reached out to his contacts in the Obama Department of Education, all of whom confirmed to him that it had been a drill, that no children had died, and that it was done to promote gun control.

Moreover, we are all aware that arguments have two parts: Premises, or the grounds, reasons, or evidence one cites; and conclusions. In this case, my premises may have been mistaken or wrong -- the absent file number, the differences in tone and texture, the variations in font sizes and spacing, which led me to believe that this 1 document had been created by combining the bottom half of 2 a real death certificate with the top half of a fake --3 given what I have learned in the meanwhile, do not appear to have been right. But my conclusion --4 5 THE COURT: Okay. Hang on. So that seemed to 6 be important. So now -- are you admitting now that you 7 were wrong? MR. FETZER: That I had bad reasons for a 8 truthful conclusion, Your Honor. 10 THE COURT: Okay. So you said you no longer 11 believe or you're changing your mind on the accusation it 12 was Photoshopped? 13 MR. FETZER: Oh, yes. 14 THE COURT: Okay. What -- what else are you -now are you conceding you were wrong? 15 16 MR. FETZER: Well, the texture difference, for 17 example, Your Honor. When you saw that --18 THE COURT: Okay. I understand. So the point 19 that the different fonts -- you accept the Plaintiff's 20 explanation that when other people who were doing their 2.1 job put it in their typewriter, if you had a different 22 typewriter, that would be different fonts --23 MR. FETZER: Yes. THE COURT: -- and sizes. So you find that to 24 25 be a plausible explanation for the different font size?

Page 128 of 171

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

MR. FETZER: I do.

THE COURT: Okay. What else? What else have you changed your mind?

MR. FETZER: Well, I'm -- I'm going to lay it out, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. I thought you just did but you went so fast that I --

MR. FETZER: Well, I'm -- I'm returning to address it further, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Okay. Thank you.

MR. FETZER: But I shall slow down.

But my conclusion that the document is a fake or a fabrication has been borne out by subsequent research, including the forensic analysis by Larry Wickstrom, confirmed by the further review and analysis of A.P. Robertson, which leave no doubt about it. Even though my initial reasons were bad, there are abundant good reasons to arrive at the same conclusion where my original argument --

THE COURT: Can I -- can I interrupt just a moment, because I'm hanging on every word. So you say, well, even though I might have been wrong on the things that I was criticizing, you're relying on Wickstrom and others.

MR. FETZER: Well, they have provide rather powerful additional evidence. It was --1 THE COURT: Well, but Wickstrom -- Wickstrom 2 3 seems to be hung up on the dark black border which now you 4 say possibly you put on. MR. FETZER: That's correct, Your Honor. 5 6 the content of the document is correct, and the -- the 7 document that is published in the book is clearly fraudulent, Your Honor, and that the --8 9 THE COURT: I'm just -- I'm just following 10 along. 11 MR. FETZER: Yes. Yes. 12 THE COURT: So you say, Judge, even though I 13 might have been wrong, I've got these experts. But these 14 experts seem to be relying on the exact same things you pointed out in the first instance. 15 16 MR. FETZER: No, that's -- that's not correct, 17 Your Honor. There's more to it here, and I'm seeking to 18 lay it out --19 THE COURT: Okay. Go ahead. 20 MR. FETZER: -- because -- Thank you. 2.1 Even though my initial reasons were bad, there 22 are abundant good reasons to arrive at the same 23 conclusion, where my original argument had false premises 24 but a true conclusion. And we all know every argument can 25 have true premises, a true conclusion; true premises, a

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

false conclusion; false premises, a true conclusion; or a false premises and a false conclusion.

As the Complaint itself emphasizes, its foundation is a crucial claim I have made that the death certificate that Plaintiff provided to Kelley Watt is a fake, a fabrication, or a forgery. Truth is an absolute defense to defamation. This case hangs on the question of authenticity, specifically, on the truth or falsity of my assertion that this document is not authentic as a fake, a fabrication, or a forgery. My premises or reasons for reaching that conclusion originally may not have been good ones, but the conclusion I reached, which is the issue upon which this case revolves, was true. And because I believed what I wrote at the time on the basis of -- of what I took to be good reasons at the time, I cannot have acted with malice, which requires knowing what you're asserting is false but asserting it anyway with the intent to mislead your target audience, which I have not done.

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. -- I apologize for interrupting. But, Dr. Fetzer, you now understand that your malice aspect has been brushed aside because of the -- your -- the concession that --

MR. FETZER: I -- I do, Your Honor, but it's rather indispensable that the Court understand that I and Mr. Palecek were acting with complete sincerity --

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. FETZER: -- and a well-founded belief based upon -- which Mr. Robertson, by the way, in his declaration, now affidavit, has observed that a reasonable person looking at the evidence I was citing in the book, being nonexpert on death certificates, noticing the absence of a file number, the wrong estimated time of death, the variations in the fonts which were the result of three different persons entering data, the texture and so forth were good reasons, to have concluded on that basis that this was a fabrication. He -- he, of course, explains that there are -- those are -- turn out not to have been good reasons ultimately, but they were the reasons I had at the time and they were reasonable reasons and I was sincere in my belief.

THE COURT: Okay. What are you telling me? you telling me that you were sincere at the time that you made the conclusion because you believed it was supported by the observations you made, that you now understand are not true?

MR. FETZER: Yes.

THE COURT: But --

MR. FETZER: But there are better reasons, Your Honor, that I'm going to explain.

THE COURT: Are these --

2.1

MR. FETZER: I mean, this is addressing the Complaint, Your Honor, which is the basis of this lawsuit. It says, "Defendant Fetzer has a long history of harassing Plaintiff and other Sandy Hook parents with defamatory lies, and has slandered Plaintiff repeatedly in the years since the tragedy at Sandy Hook." That's completely absurd, Your Honor.

I'm -- I'm a former Marine Corps officer, Your Honor. I'm a Distinguished McKnight Professor, Your Honor. I've been devoting myself since my retirement to exposing these charades perpetrated by the government in collaborative research. We are trying to find out the truth in those cases where the government has a motive to lie to the American people.

We have discovered in part because of my background as an expert in epistemology, methodology, and the philosophy of science, again and again the government has perpetrated lies on the American people.

THE COURT: So what evidence should I rely on either to find in support of your Motion for Summary Judgment or to conclude there's a genuine issue on the -any fact that's material to the falsity of the death certificate? I'm not --

MR. FETZER: It's coming, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Okay. I'm sorry. Go ahead.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

MR. FETZER: This meant that the Complaint likewise has no basis in claiming that I acted with malice, as in paragraph 39 [sic]:

Defendant Fetzer acted with actual malice. In particular, Defendant Fetzer published his statements knowing that his statements were false or with reckless disregard for the truth or falsity of his statements.

On the contrary, my conclusion was reached on the basis of collaborative research with several others, including Dennis Cimino, who is a top electronics troubleshooter for the U.S. Navy before he left to work for Raytheon and a contributor to the first edition of the book who suggested that portions had been Photoshopped, where I had reason to take him at his word. additional reasons reported by Bob Simms about the fonts, the size, and spacing of words in the document were ones I confirmed by direct observation. In combination with my own observations about the dark texture of roughly the bottom two-thirds in contrast with the top one-third, it was my inference that the document appeared to be a fabrication, combining the bottom half or two-thirds of a real death certificate with the top half or one-third of a fake, which I no longer believe is true.

My reasons regarding the top half included the absence of a file number, which it turns out can occur with documents obtained from the town registrar, and wrong estimated time of death at 11:00 a.m., when it -- which as even the report on the Sandy Hook shooting by Danbury State's Attorney Stephen Sedensky III states the shooting took place between 9:30 and 9:40 or 9:41, which meant the estimated time of death was wildly inaccurate. Even though the Medical Examiner Wayne Carver II, M.D., sought to explain that away, it remains inconsistent with the official account, which was one more reason why I sincerely believe that this document is a fake, a fabrication, or a forgery. Therefore, for the wrong reasons, I came to the right conclusion. Not only am I not guilty of defamation, therefore, but I did not act with malice, which is another false accusation.

2.1

Appended to the Complaint was a copy of a death certificate that I had never before laid eyes upon, which the Complaint alleged to be the same in every material respect:

Paragraph 19. The Connecticut Department of Public Health maintains official death records for the State of Connecticut. The Connecticut Department of Public Health,

Vital Statistics Division, issued an official death certificate for N.P. A true and correct copy of that death certificate, sensitive information redacted, is attached hereto as Attachment A. The official death certificate attached hereto does not differ in any material respect from the one released publicly by Plaintiff.

2.1

The claim that the death certificate attached to the Complaint does not differ in any material respect released publicly by Plaintiff, as should be apparent already, blatantly falsifies the situation we confront, because the attached certificate has both a state certification as a true copy and the certification of the town registrar, in the absence of which it properly qualifies as illegal and a fabrication. By Connecticut law, not even parents can have uncertified copies. It's that blatant.

They say, "The law works in mysterious ways," but I'm baffled to this day how I could be sued for defamation regarding a document that I had never before seen much less commented upon prior to the filing of this suit. Moreover, the copy attached was so poor that it was virtually illegible and legally useless, as I explained to Mr. Zimmerman when he called me about the suit. I asked him if he knew anything about Sandy Hook or had any idea what he was getting into, adding that the copy attached was so poor as to be unreadable and legally useless. He replied that if I wanted a better copy, I could contact the State of Connecticut and obtain one for a $20 fee. I 1 thought that was rather strange to provide the Defendant 2 with an illegible copy of a document on which the case was 3 said to be based. While I did not initially attempt to obtain a 4 copy, eventually Co-Defendant Dave Gahary and I both 5 obtained copies of the death certificate for Noah Pozner. 6 7 To my surprise, they were not the same. Mine had the same handwritten file number as on the copy attached to the 8 Complaint but no redaction for the burial location and the 10 social security box was empty rather than redacted. 11 Dave's had a partial printed file number that does not 12 correspond with the others. We therefore have four 13 different versions thereof: 14 Exhibit A. 15 THE BAILIFF: Do you have copies? 16 MR. FETZER: Yeah. One for each. 17 THE COURT: We'll mark that as Exhibit 4. (Exhibit 4 marked for identification.) 18 19 MR. FETZER: Exhibit A: The copy published in 20 the VT article, 2014, in the first and second editions --2.1 THE COURT: Dr. -- Dr. Fetzer. 22 MR. FETZER: Yes? 23 THE COURT: So now, just so the record's clear, 2.4 refer to it as Exhibit 4. 25 MR. FETZER: Yes. All right, Your Honor.

Exhibit 4: The copy -- Exhibit 4: The copy published in the VT article, 2014, in the first and second editions of Nobody Died at Sandy Hook, 2015 and 2016, and in the Sandy Hook Memoranda edited by Robert David Steele, 2018, also cited in the Complaint, all of which have no file number but with redactions of the -- for the location of burial of the decedent and of a social security number, and even seems to have a fake seal at the bottom left, where no seal should appear.

Exhibit 5.

(Exhibit 5 marked for identification.)

MR. FETZER: Exhibit 5: Attached to the Complaint has a handwritten file number 2012-07-07833. It has changes to the last residence of the decedent from 37 Alpine Drive to 3 Kale Davis Road made at the request of the father, identified as Leonard Pozner, and with redaction to the location of the burial plot but none to his social security number, where the box is empty.

Since the box for the SSN is empty on the attached Complaint, I have been puzzled that the copy provided by Plaintiff was redacted as though there had been a present social security number. But notice as I have been emphasizing, the attached copy, Exhibit B, has two forms of certification, while the Kelley copy, Exhibit A -- I have the numbers now wrong. Exhibit 5 has two

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25 forms of certification, while the Kelley copy, Exhibit 4, has none. What could be more material?

Now Exhibit 6.

(Exhibit 6 marked for identification.)

Exhibit 6: Obtained by Dave Gahary from the town registrar, which has the changes made by the father, the same as Exhibit 4, but has no redaction for either burial plot or social security number, where the box is empty. Its most striking differences is a file number that is printed and partial, including only the last four digits, the first obscured but the remainder 243.

Exhibit 7.

(Exhibit 7 marked for identification.)

Exhibit 7: Obtained by me from the State of Connecticut, it has a handwritten file number, 2012-07-078033, but in other respects appears to be the same as Exhibit 6. Notice that, although the authentication of Debbie Aurelia on Exhibit 5 and Exhibit 6 both appear at the upper left, close in, to the border, that on Exhibit 4 appears at the middle, further out, which indicates more than one version.

In addition to Exhibit 7, I obtained four other death certificates from the state, including for purported Sandy Hook assailant, Adam Lanza; his mother, Nancy Lanza; another of the alleged victims, Avielle Richmond; and for my dear friend, William Brandon Shanley, who died apparently of natural causes on 6 November 2017. What is most striking in relation to the disputed death certificates is that all of them have printed file numbers. None of them has handwritten. They were all on the same form VS4-ME, except for Shanley, which as Wayne Carver, M.D. explained to me during questioning on the occasion of his deposition in Connecticut on 21 May 2019, when I showed to him Exhibit 6 above, obtained by Dave Gahary from the Town of Newtown, he could not explain its partial printed file number. Quoting, "Well, first of all, this was -- I have no idea what it is." Deposition Transcript, lines 7-8 from the State Medical Examiner.

Several significant points emerge from comparing these various versions, not least of which is that when Plaintiff provided Kelley Watt with a copy of Exhibit 4 in 2014, he had already made revisions to it in 2013 and knew it was not the currently available version. Notice Exhibit 5 attached to the Complaint had been corrected by Leonard Pozner on 6/14/13. That raises a question of why the Plaintiff published on his son's memorial page a version of his death certificate that he knew was no longer correct. It smacks of baiting Sandy Hook skeptics into focussing on a version that he could subsequently effortlessly claim to be wrong, which he knew of his own

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

personal knowledge because he himself had changed it.

Another anomaly with Exhibit 5, which was attached to the Complaint, is that the father changed the address of the decedent. That struck me as at least faintly absurd because no one changes their last residence after they are dead. During his video deposition, I asked the Plaintiff why he had made this change, to which he replied that Noah had only resided at that address with his mother for a brief period of time and he wanted his death certificate to reflect the location where he had longer resided, which I regarded as highly implausible. more reasonable explanation for this change has come from the forensic document expert, A.P. Robertson, who suggested they made -- this may have been an effort by Plaintiff to ensure that donations from the public would flow to him at 3 Kale Davis Road rather than to his ex-wife at 37 Alpine Drive, which, if true, would explain it.

Indeed, there are at least two other anomalies, one about the death certificate, the other about the Complaint, that have struck me as disturbing. On the death certificate, where it asks for first, middle, and last name of the informant, only the nickname, Lenny Pozner, appears.

Even more anomalous, and, to me, extremely peculiar, is that the decedent, who is supposed to be the man's beloved son, is only referred to by his initials, N.P. As a father myself, I cannot imagine in my wildest dreams having lost a child and then feeling compelled to bring a lawsuit to protect his sanctity and then only referring to him by his initials.

2.1

All of these oddities are more readily explicable on the hypothesis that Noah is a fiction made up out of photographs of his purported older step-brother, Michael Vabner, than on the hypothesis that he was real. When we consider that we may be dealing with an illusion rather than reality, where the Sandy Hook event was a FEMA mass casualty exercise involving children to promote gun control that was then presented to the public as mass murder, the pieces make sense.

Where we have even incidentally obtained the FEMA manual for the exercise on 13 December 2012, the rehearsal ending at 11:59 to be evaluated the following day as a real-time event, where some of the participants became confused and even put up donation pages on the web the day before, and where the alleged assailant Adam Lanza's death was initially recorded as having occurred on the 13th of December 2012, making his feat in shooting 20 children and 6 adults the following day all the more remarkable.

2.1

2.4

Insofar as the Complaint was narrowly crafted to focus upon the solitary issue of the authenticity of the death certificate and my observations about it, we find the situation now copiously documented, including the studies of two document examiners, to be as follows with respect to the charges therein made:

Count 1. Defamation by all Defendants.

Paragraph 21. The statements excerpted from Nobody Died at Sandy Hook are false, both in their particular facts and in the main point, essence, or gist in the context in which they were made, because N.P.'s death certificate is not a fabrication or forgery.

22. The statements excerpted from Nobody Died at Sandy Hook refer directly to Plaintiff by name, and giving the surrounding context likewise indicates that the comments implicate Plaintiff. Given the surrounding assertions, a reasonable reader would understand the statement to imply that Plaintiff knowingly possessed and distributed a fabricated death certificate.

Since truth is an absolute defense against defamation and the documents in question, not just Exhibits 4 and 5, but Exhibit 6 and 7 as well, turn out to be fabrications, the Defendants have not committed defamation. Moreover, as A.P. Robertson has astutely observed, a reasonable person, observing the anomalies in

Case 2018CV003122

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

the document published in the book, Nobody Died at Sandy It was a FEMA Drill to Promote Gun Control, 2015; 2nd edition, 2016, including the missing file numbers, the wrong estimated time of death, the difference in shading between the upper and lower portions, the variations in types, fonts, and spacings would have reasonably inferred that this document was not authentic but a fabrication. And I have only recently realized that the given name of the town as Sandy Hook in the death certificates is not correct because the death happened in Newtown, Connecticut.

Even if I, the Defendant, was mistaken about some of the reasons I concluded that the document was fake, it was a reasonable inference at the time. Now, supported by two document expert examiner reports, there are no good reasons to doubt that I was right. Exhibit 4, the document he addressed, is in fact and indeed, a fabrication, as claimed. The allegedly defamatory statements are true, which means Count 1 is refuted.

Count 2. Defamation Defendant Fetzer.

Paragraph 31. The statements excerpted from Defendant Fetzer's August 2018 blog post are false, both in their particular facts and in the main point, essence, or gist in the context in which they were made, because N.P.'s death certificate is not a fabrication or forgery. The surrounding context implies that Plaintiff knowingly distributed a falsified death certificate.

2.1

Another oddity of the Complaint is -- is the insinuation that Defendants allege that Plaintiff had personally fabricated the death certificate addressed in the book, which again, is Exhibit 4. But, while Defendant Fetzer did express that opinion to Plaintiff in private correspondence, he has not published that allegation, which he no longer entertains, and therefore in the absence of publication, he cannot be liable for defamation under Count 2, either.

Count 3. Conspiracy

Paragraph 41. With regard to the statements in *Nobody*Died at Sandy Hook, Defendants acted together, as a cabal, to accomplish their defamation. Defendants had a meeting of the minds on the object or course of action underlying their recklessly defamatory publication.

There being no defamation, there can be no conspiracy between us to commit defamation.

The following has thus been established: No facts are in issue with regard to the death certificate. The one I received from Plaintiff via Kelley Watt is not certified. Plaintiff has admitted to his conversations with Kelley and to posting it on Noah's memorial Google Plus page. Even though I added a border, the rest came from him. The size of image is immaterial and varies with its reproduction. What matters is what is on it and what is not. It does not have the town registrar's seal on the left-hand side. That is decisive. These are crucial points because the Plaintiff has not mentioned these problems in his Response to my Motion for Summary Judgment. It is confessed, which means I am entitled to summary judgment in my favor. My statements are substantially true and, as the Wisconsin Supreme Court has ruled in Meier v. Meurer, 8 Wis.3d 24, 29 -- 29, 98 N.W.2d 411, 1959: "In this state, if a statement be substantially true, it cannot be the basis for a civil action for libel," Meier, 8 Wis.2d 29, citations omitted.

There are also legal problems with the death certificate having been received by the town clerk more than five days after the death, that a burial could not have been issued and more in my Motion for Summary Judgment. I have also pointed out that the death was supposed to be registered in the town in which it occurred, per the law, while the funeral director, Samuel Green, said that it was registered in Fairfield, which would mean the Fairfield clerk's signature should appear on the death certificate, not Debbie's.

We are the editors of Moon Rock Books. As editors, have been doing our best to inform the public of 1 the truth about its own history, which Plaintiff in this 2 case has been desperately trying to suppress. The State 3 of Wisconsin and the American people deserve better. The facts of this matter with regard to the Complaint are not 4 5 in doubt. It has no merit and represents an abuse of 6 process and a fraud upon the Court. The Court can 7 contribute to ending this charade by it rendering us the summary judgment to which we are entitled. Let it end. 8 9 Thank you. 10 THE COURT: Thank you, Dr. Fetzer. Dr. Fetzer, because you -- you did read fairly 11 12 quickly, I notice you were reading from something. don't want to sort of steal your work product. Can I use 13 14 that and mark that as an exhibit and --15 MR. FETZER: You may. 16 THE COURT: -- make that part of the record? 17 MR. FETZER: You may indeed, Your Honor. 18 THE COURT: Thank you. 19 MR. FETZER: Let me make sure we have the right 20 pages in the right order. 2.1 THE COURT: We'll mark it as an exhibit. 22 (Exhibit 8 marked for identification.) 23 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Your Honor, while we're doing 24 that, can I ask a minor administrative question? 25 THE COURT: Okay.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: The original document that we 1 provided as I believe Exhibit 2, the death certificate, 2 3 has a social security number in the bottom right-hand corner. It's the one with the raised seal on it. 4 THE COURT: Correct. 5 6 MR. ZIMMERMAN: It's an original, so obviously, 7 we can't redact it. THE COURT: We'll file this under seal. 8 9 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Thank you, Your Honor. I 10 appreciate that. 11 THE COURT: Under -- under the new rules, which 12 automatically recognize the confidentiality of social 13 security numbers. Do we need anything further on that? 14 THE CLERK: No. THE COURT: No. That will be taken care of. 15 16 MR. ZIMMERMAN: Thank you, Your Honor. MR. FETZER: Your Honor, regarding the statement 17 18 I just provided, I added extemporaneous additional 19 explanatory remarks in three cases. 20 THE COURT: I understand. What this will help 2.1 is my court reporter, if she has a question about words 22 then she'll refer to it, and obviously, of preeminent 23 importance is to get in the official record all that you 24 said. It does not supplant what you've said but augments 25 it.

Thank you, Your Honor. MR. FETZER:

I do have one question too about this business of a million dollars. I have never been notified that the Plaintiff was seeking a million dollars, Your Honor. I question whether it was done in a timely fashion. I'm not an attorney, but I have been advised that there's a point at which that must be done or it's nullified. never been notified of a million dollar seek for -punishment for damages in this case, Your Honor. I find that quite bewildering.

THE COURT: Well, very timely, Dr. Fetzer, if you might have turned the television on, consuming much of the news over the weekend was an, I don't know, I think it was like a $10 million lawsuit against law enforcement in some other town. In Wisconsin, the law precludes for the very reason of pre-trial publicity and sensationalizing parties from putting and specifying in the Complaint.

Plaintiff cites 802.08(2) for the proposition that he's required to disclose the amount. 802.08(2) says, "Prior to a hearing on the motion, any party who was prohibited under 802.02(1m) from specifying the amount of money sought in the demand for judgment shall specify that amount to the court and to the other parties." So it says, "Prior to the hearing on the motion," and this was filed on Sunday morning prior to the hearing. I haven't

1 2

3

4

5

6

7

8 9

10

11

12 13

14

15

16

17

18 19

20

2.1

22

23

24

25

1	seen this very often, but in answer to your question,
2	Dr. Fetzer, apparently what Wisconsin statutes require.
3	Mr. Zimmerman, it's your motion
4	MR. FETZER: Incidentally, Your Honor, I have
5	those death certificates I obtained from the state, if the
6	Court would like to review them. They all have the
7	printed file number, they all have the embossed imprint,
8	and, you know, they're available for the Court's review.
9	THE COURT: Well I'll you have the right
10	to you've given me a lot of exhibits. Is there
11	anything else you want to offer?
12	Any objection to any of these exhibits that
13	Dr. Fetzer has offered?
14	MR. ZIMMERMAN: Not no objection to admitting
15	them into the record, no, Your Honor.
16	THE COURT: They'll be received.
17	(Exhibits 4 through 9 received into evidence.)
18	THE COURT: Is there anything else, Dr. Fetzer
19	or Mr. Palecek, you want me to receive?
20	MR. PALECEK: No. No.
21	MR. FETZER: These are scans, Your Honor, rather
22	than the original documents, which I do have and which
23	arrived in an envelope I have here, Your Honor.
24	THE COURT: We'll mark that as a group exhibit.
25	(Exhibit 9 marked for identification.)

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Zimmerman, it's your motion. As to your Motion for Summary Judgment, you get the last word.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor.

None of the issues that Dr. Fetzer raised in his presentation change the underlying facts of this case. This case is about Noah Pozner's death certificate as it was reproduced in the book. Very few of the arguments that Defendant Fetzer raised spoke to that death certificate in particular. I think he's admitted that the statements that he made in the book were false and he no longer subscribes to them; that he may have other reasons today for making that accusation, do not excuse his publication in the book. As a matter of law in Wisconsin, his belief is irrelevant to the publication of a defamatory statement. I think for that reason, Your Honor, the Court should grant Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment.

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Palecek, they're asking for summary judgment against you as well. Is there anything you'd like to say?

MR. PALECEK: Nothing I -- I just think that we were -- we are trying to find the truth out, and I think it's an important -- Jim's work is important and the book is important. I think it's important for the history of

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

this country. And I -- I -- I just think that I believe in what we were -- we've been doing, and that's all I have to say.

THE COURT: Okay. Anything more from any of the parties before I do my job and rule on the Motions for Summary Judgment? Anybody? I --

MR. FETZER: Your --

THE COURT: -- I do this because sometimes I hear later on, well, he didn't -- I hadn't -- he didn't let me finish or there's one more issue. I don't want you to be repetitive. I've listened. I've read everything. Is there anything else?

MR. PALECEK: If we are to go to trial, I wish it would -- the jury would be able to hear the evidence rather than just have -- just the -- about money, just talk about the amount of money.

THE COURT: I'm not going to make any decisions today about what evidence is admitted or prohibited at trial. Obviously, depending upon how I rule, that will be a factor. But it's very important that everyone gets a chance, notwithstanding the Court's ruling, to give the jury some context and some background. I don't know what I'll decide on that. I'll have to wait to see what the parties ask.

Anything else?

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Nothing from the Plaintiffs, Your Honor.

MR. FETZER: There are now four death certificates in this case, Your Honor, where there ought only to be one. That's prima facie proof of fabrication and fakery. The seal of --

THE COURT: Okay. You're being -- that's repetitive.

But I'll -- Look it, I think this case is fairly -- very simple. I'm going to ask you another question, and I -- because I want you to address just the question I'm going to ask you, Dr. Fetzer. I don't think there's any genuine issue over any of the material facts. I think the last question that both parties are asking me to decide is the legal question.

As Mr. Zimmerman has said, Dr. Fetzer, he's seen no objection to receiving all the various copies with all the various differences into evidence. Neither -- Both parties say that is the fabric of the underlying government records. I understand all that. I -- I start with the blank form, and then I start with Exhibit 2, and I work all the way up until -- considering the various iterations that the Plaintiff has presented, including now, Dr. Fetzer, those as well. I understand that. Those are not in dispute. What they are, they speak for themselves. Dr. Fetzer, you have correctly pointed out on more than one occasion the differences between the various copies. That does not alone indicate that any one of them are false, it only demonstrates a difference.

2.1

For example, some copies have a state file number, some don't. There's no genuine issue as to the fact that some have a file number and some don't.

Whether the Defendants' original publications are a false statement is a legal question that the Court applies based on the undisputed facts. To say it in plain English, Mr. Palecek or Mr. -- Dr. Fetzer, juries decide facts, judges apply the law to those facts. But sometimes, when there's no genuine issue about the facts, the rules of civil procedure says, Well, we don't need the time and expense of a jury, let the parties lay out those facts, and then, Judge, you do your job and apply the law.

I know, actually, both parties have moved for summary judgment, and there is precedent in Wisconsin that when both parties move for summary judgment, that's an acquiescence or even a concession there's no genuine issue as to the underlying facts. Each of the parties look at the facts and come to different conclusions or so they suggest to the Court.

So Dr. Fetzer -- well, do you agree that there's no genuine dispute on the underlying facts? The only question is that you'd like me to conclude is based on those facts, come to the legal conclusion that you and Mr. Palecek did not at the time the statement was made, make a false statement. Is that the question?

2.1

2.4

MR. FETZER: We did not make a false statement, Your Honor, because our statement was substantially true.

THE COURT: Okay. Stop.

MR. FETZER: And if --

THE COURT: I'm putting in the context of the legal question. Do you agree that there's no dispute between the Plaintiff and Defendants about the facts? The only dispute is whether those facts would cause me to make the legal conclusion that it is or is not a false statement.

MR. FETZER: As I called him out for it earlier this morning, Your Honor, Mr. Zimmerman presented you with not just one but two copies of the purported death certificate, which is not the death certificate that was posted by Leonard Pozner or was transmitted to Kelley Watt or I published in the book. That's a very significant fundamental question here. I described it then as a shell game. I reaffirm that, Your Honor. There's a fraud being perpetrated on the Court. As I understand it, counsel, as officers of the court, have an obligation to act consistent with the truth. That has not happened here in

Case 2018CV003122

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

this courtroom this morning.

THE COURT: Okay. At a certain level, Dr. Fetzer, I understand your and Mr. Palecek's position, having listened to your rather lengthy closing argument. At a certain level, Dr. Fetzer, you say all of these death certificates are a fabrication because there never was a death at Sandy Hook and Noah Pozner never died; is that right?

MR. FETZER: I'm not making that argument here and now, Your Honor. In fact, the document examiners have given so many good reasons. There are boxes in these death certificates that were drawn in by hand, Your Honor. I cannot imagine you would want to make a decision without reviewing the experts' testimony.

THE COURT: Well I --

MR. FETZER: Boxes in the death certificate were even drawn in by hand. That's the finding of -- of the first death examiner, Wickstrom, that was reenforced by Robertson. These are formidable individuals, Your Honor. They have staked their representations on their reports, their declarations and their affidavits that these are all four fraudulent. Mr. Wickstrom, in fact, was dumbfounded that the State of Connecticut was not only issuing fabricated death certificates --

THE COURT: Hang on.

MR. FETZER: -- but giving different fabricated 1 2 death certificates to different parties to a litigation. 3 THE COURT: I think you said in there, all of the death certificates are false and fraudulent. 4 MR. FETZER: Yes. 5 6 THE COURT: Okay. Including, all of the death 7 certificates marked as your Exhibit No. 9? MR. FETZER: I'm not -- those, Your Honor, I got 8 for comparison purposes. The Shanley is obviously 10 authentic. This was a dear friend of mine. 11 But, Your Honor, this is to create a straw man. 12 I -- you asked me not to address Sandy Hook, only to address the question of the Noah Pozner death certificate. 13 14 I obtained others --THE COURT: I'm only -- You're right. It's --15 16 Exhibit No. 9 is a group exhibit. The first page is Noah Pozner's death certificate. Is that false or fraudulent? 17 18 MR. FETZER: Yeah, it's fraudulent. 19 THE COURT: Okay. Okay. So then you agree --20 do you agree that, you know, when I say the facts are not 2.1 genuinely disputed, if it was a traffic accident, you'd 22 say the light was Green when I went through it and the 23 defendant -- the plaintiff would say, no, you went through 24 a red light. Whether it was Green or red, that's a 25 question of fact. Do you agree that there's no dispute about the facts, you want me to conclude based on my 1 2 review of all the evidence that Noah Pozner's death certificates were false in fabrication? 3 MR. FETZER: The Plaintiff would have you make 4 this decision on the basis of death certificates not in 5 6 question, that weren't published in the book, that I never 7 even saw before. I find it completely absurd, Your Honor, that I should be sued for a death certificate that I've 8 9 never even seen prior to publication, prior to the falling 10 of the lawsuit. If that isn't a manifest legal absurdity, 11 I can't imagine what would be. 12 THE COURT: Well --13 MR. FETZER: I've never even seen that death 14 certificate. 15 THE COURT: Okay. 16 MR. FETZER: Yes. The one in the book, that is 17 the object of the lawsuit, Your Honor. That is the 18 object. Not this other stuff that Zimmerman is bringing 19 in which is intended to mislead the Court, frankly. 20 THE COURT: Okay. 2.1 MR. FETZER: That's what's going on. 22 THE COURT: Okay. Dr. Fetzer, I have always 23 tried -- have I tried to treat you with the dignity and respect a man of your education deserves? 24 25 MR. FETZER: You have, Your Honor.

2.1

THE COURT: So I'd only ask the same that you address counsel. It's -- I try to refer to Mr. Palecek and Dr. Fetzer.

MR. FETZER: You're right.

THE COURT: I would --

MR. FETZER: Mr. Zimmerman, indeed.

THE COURT: Okay. Well --

MR. FETZER: Your Honor --

THE COURT: I think --

MR. FETZER: -- the Court --

THE COURT: -- to some extent this is a belabored point, but Mr. Zimmerman, just so I can sort of -- to create a record, let me ask you this question. It really doesn't make any difference which particular iteration I look at, including the one appearing on page 181. The Plaintiff's position is none of them are a false or fabrication. They reflect the document in its various forms -- in its various forms.

MR. ZIMMERMAN: Yes, Your Honor.

There are times when we want to make sure we're looking at the right version of a document to understand, for example, an expert's opinion that derive from a document, but its Plaintiff's position that they all have the same content. The one in the book is the one we've been talking about.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

what you want to comment about it. Well, okay.

This is -- there is no dispute about the facts. Dr. Fetzer, I've heard loud and clear every time you've said what you believe is missing or changed, what you believe should cause me to conclude that it's a false statement or fabrication.

MR. FETZER: It's a matter of Connecticut law, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I --

MR. FETZER: Not even parents are allowed to possess uncertified death certificates. That is an uncertified death certificate. By Connecticut law, the -even Pozner is not allowed to possess.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. FETZER: It is clear on its face.

THE COURT: All right. Now it's my turn to talk.

I do have some same concerns about the propriety of a motion for partial summary judgment. I'm satisfied, Mr. Zimmerman, you're right, the law does obligate me and especially when you're talking about liability, that is a conclusion that's appropriate for a motion for partial summary judgment. Having concluded there's no genuine issue as to the material facts, then really the only question is for me to look at every aspect of the criticisms that the Defendants have made -- well, let's not say criticisms -- to look at every one of the observations that the Defendants have made to judge whether the statements made in the book and in the blog are false.

2.1

And in that regard, although I haven't directly addressed it here due to the length of the hearing, I have been mindful of the Plaintiff's critiques of the admissibility of certain factual propositions offered by the Defendants, and the absence of authenticity of some of the documents.

Quite honestly, Mr. Zimmerman, much of that is -- those objections should be sustained, but much of that is really subsidiary to the underlying question, and although I understand the relevance, for purposes of summary judgment, they're immaterial. This is a very simple case, I think.

As someone who is -- although I have my own opinions, those are not relevant today. The function of the Court is to examine the evidence submitted by the parties to determine whether there's any genuine dispute and then decide what the conclusion of law should be.

Nothing I say here or do should give anyone the impression I have any opinions on anything that's not before the Court. There's been -- much has been said about maybe your comment, Mr. Palecek, about search for truth and the That's not my function today is to be the final word on any of this. To the contrary, my function as a circuit court judge is to address the question before the court properly presented and supported by the evidence. Having concluded there's no genuine dispute as to any of the material facts, I conclude that the Plaintiff is entitled to judgment on liability as a matter of law.

I've looked at the exhibits. I follow and track all of the explanations that have been provided by the Plaintiff as to explaining the differences between the various forms and copies of the death certificates. All of that makes sense to me and provide a plausible and acceptable explanation for those differences. Ultimately and cumulatively, they all point back to the proposition that an accusation then as apparently is iterated now, that the death certificate is false and fabricated, is not supported by the evidence that's been presented in the context of a motion for summary judgment.

I will also, although I did not do it before, have read the Plaintiff's Motion to Strike the Expert Opinions. I actually think the expert opinions, even, Mr. Zimmerman, if they weren't struck, are just that, someone else's opinions. Ultimately, I've made the decision based on the facts.

1 2 3

5 6

4

7

8 9

10 11

12

13

14

15

16

17 18

19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

I do share the Court's concern -- excuse me, the Plaintiff's concerns about the various challenges to those experts under the Daubert case and the Seifert case. I'm not sure I need, in the context of today's proceeding, to rule on them. It may be very well that that would be reiterated on a motion in limine. Are you asking that I rule on your motion to strike those reports? MR. ZIMMERMAN: No, Your Honor. I don't think it's required given the bases that you've provided today.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. FETZER: Your Honor, for the sake of an appeal, do I need to make an objection now to the Court's ruling?

THE COURT: No. I'll tell you -- I don't give advice, but I'll tell you what your options are, Mr. Palecek and Dr. Fetzer.

Although the Plaintiffs have held on their motion to strike the experts, I -- I would grant the motion to strike those reports for the reasons -- those opinions. I do think that under the Daubert v. Merrell Dow Pharmaceutical cases, the Plaintiffs have made a showing as to the propriety.

Why do I say that? Well, I don't want to have someone come back and say, well, if the judge would have reviewed the expert opinion reports -- expert opinions,

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9 10

11 12

13

14

15

16

17

18 19 20

2.1

22

23

24

25

then that creates a genuine issue as to fact. I just don't think they were helpful and I don't think they were persuasive even above all the evidentiary problems they present.

I also agree, Mr. Zimmerman, they come late and provide a post hoc rationale perhaps of a justification that doesn't directly address the falsity of the statement at the time it was made. So for those reasons, I'm going to grant the Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment as to liability.

What have we done today? In addition to the ruling on the other motions, I've concluded two things, that Leonard Pozner is not a public person for purposes of applying the different standard that implicates the concept of malice. I did that based on the facts and the concession of the parties acquiescing to that. And second, I've granted summary judgment on liability. The case will now proceed to trial on damages.

I'll make such rulings as presented before the Pay particular attention to the Court's scheduling Court. order. Pre-trial motions are due two weeks before the final pre-trial conference. Motions in limine are Latin for motions to limit testimony, but if you'd like to bring on a motion to seek clarification on the propriety of admitting testimony, you can do that. We'll use the final pre-trial conference to talk about the length of trial, the issues at trial, the witnesses to be called. Keep in mind also there are other requirements, if they haven't come and gone, on witness lists and disclosure of expert witnesses.

2.1

Now, Dr. Fetzer, this is not a final order for purposes of appeal, because further proceedings are to be had in this case. So you don't have an appeal, in my opinion, as a matter of right. You do have a right to what is called a permissive appeal. You can provide information and fairly easily online. There's internal operating procedures for Wisconsin Court of Appeals, and in fact, there are some forms that you could use. The decisions you have to make is whether you take what is called an interlocutory appeal, what issues you'd like the Court of Appeals to address.

You'll have to provide a notice of appeal. I believe you're still required to do a docking statement. And you'll also then have to fill out a statement on transcript, and the statement on transcript will disclose whether a transcript and what transcripts are necessary for purposes of your interlocutory appeal.

Suffice to say that today's argument did stray off into substantial factual assertions in which you've asked the Court to consider and oral concessions and

1 acquiescence and do articulate the basis of this Court's 2 ruling. I believe a transcript would be required for 3 purposes of appeal, but that's in a statement that you'd have to make and attest that necessary arrangements have 4 5 been made with the court reporter to prepare that. 6 would be your option. 7 The only question sometimes people ask the circuit court judge is, Judge, while we're doing that, can 8 9 we stay the proceeding in the circuit court? No request 10 has been made. We have some time. I think we're not in 11 trial until October? 12 MR. ZIMMERMAN: That's correct, Your Honor. 13 THE COURT: There's enough time for the Court of 14 Appeals usually act fairly quickly on interlocutory 15 appeals. We're just going to keep moving forward. The 16 case is set. Beyond that, I'm not sure what other options 17 or information you need. 18 Do you have any questions? Mr. Palecek, do you 19 have any questions? 20 MR. PALECEK: No, I don't. 2.1 THE COURT: Dr. Fetzer? 22 MR. FETZER: You're suggesting, Your Honor, 23 there's an opportunity to make an appeal to stay the 2.4 process at this point; is that my understanding? 25 THE COURT: I'm not -- I'm not suggesting

1 anything. I'm just saying that --2 MR. FETZER: No, that -- that there is the 3 option. THE COURT: There is. 4 5 MR. FETZER: And that is, again, known as? 6 THE COURT: Well, it was a motion to stay 7 pending appeal. Of course, the Plaintiff has a right to weigh in on that. There are various factors that you'd 8 9 have to satisfy to get a stay. Because of the time 10 between today and the trial and there's -- if this was 11 going to be tried next week, that might be different. 12 You'd have to demonstrate those factors and then you would 13 also have the ability if you were unsatisfied --14 dissatisfied with my answer, you can ask the Court of 15 Appeals to stay proceedings in the circuit court as well. 16 Those are your options, that's true, if you decide to take 17 an interlocutory appeal. 18 I would say to you both that interlocutory 19 appeals are generally disfavored and not commonly granted. 20 Any other questions? 2.1 Well, hearing none, then Mr. Zimmerman or 22 somebody will prepare a simple just marginal order for the 23 reasons stated by the Court from the record, you probably should memorialize my other rulings on the other motions 24 25 that have been presented.

1	Thank you very much for coming.
2	MR. ZIMMERMAN: Thank you, Your Honor.
3	THE COURT: We won't see you then until, if not
4	before for some matter brought to the Court, at the final
5	pre-trial conference.
6	My bailiff will bring the book back. And before
7	you leave, don't don't let anyone leave until we make
8	sure we have all the exhibits.
9	MR. FETZER: Wasn't this wasn't this
10	accepted, Your Honor? This is the most important evidence
11	in the entire case. It's the actual publication of the 12	death certificate in the book.
13	THE COURT: I did not know that you were asking
14	for it to be marked as an exhibit.
15	MR. FETZER: I did so, Your Honor.
16	THE COURT: Okay.
17	MR. ZIMMERMAN: No objection.
18	THE COURT: Okay. I'll have to figure out how 19	we scan in. In the new world, we don't actually keep
20	things but
21	THE CLERK: It won't be scanned. It will be
22	treated like a CD.
23	THE COURT: Okay. We'll keep it in the record.
24	We'll mark it as an exhibit with what number are we on?
25	THE CLERK: This will be 10.

```
1
                       THE COURT: Ten.
                       (Exhibit 10 marked for identification and 2 3 received into evidence.)
 4
                       THE COURT: Thank you very much.
 5
                       (Proceeding concluded at 12:45 p.m.)
 6
 7
 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16
17 18 19 20 21
22
23 24
25
```

1 STATE OF WISCONSIN 2 COUNTY OF DANE) 3 I, COLLEEN C. CLARK, Registered Professional Reporter, Official Court Reporter, Branch 8, Dane County 4 5 Circuit Court, hereby certify that I reported in Stenographic 6 shorthand the proceedings had before the Court on this 17th day 7 of June, 2019, and that the foregoing transcript is a true and correct copy of the said Stenographic notes thereof. 8 9 On this day the original and one copy of the 10 transcript were prepared by pursuant to Statute. 11 Dated this 20th day of June, 2019. 12 13 Electronically signed by: 14 Colleen C. Clark COLLEEN C. CLARK, RPR 15 OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER 16 17 18 19 20 The foregoing certification of this transcript does not apply to any reproduction of the same by 2.1 any means unless under the direct control and/or direction of the certifying reporter. 22 23 2.4 25